MADE AN ASSAULT

G. A. WIDDER, CANDY SALESMAN, WAS ATTACKED BY ROBERT MONTAGUE.

THE LATTER TAKEN IN CUSTODY

C. C. Kelly Returned Last Night From Marshall, Where He Assisted in the Prosecution of Montague.

C. C. Kelly returned last night from Marshall, where he went to represent G. A. Widder, the candy salesman, in the prosecution of Robert Montague, better known as "Bob" Montague, who is connected with a wholesale grocery house there, and who had been arrested for making what is said to have been a brutal assault on Mr. Widder last Friday.

Montague entered a plea of guilty and was fined $1 and costs, a total of about $10, which he paid.

The assault was committed in the wholesale grocery firm's office last Friday. Mr. Widder entered the office to await the arrival of the president of the company, who was to give him an order.

Without any provocation, it is alleged, Montague struck Mr. Widder a forceful blow with his fist in th back of the head.

Just as Mr. Widder turned to see who his assailant was, Montague administered another blow to Mr. Widder on his face, resulting in a badly swollen and discolored left eye.

Mr. Widder at once began to defend himself, and seized Montague by the throat, but by that time other employes of the firm interfered and separated Mr. Widder from his assailant.

Mr. Widder swore out a warrant for Montague's arrest, with the foregoing result.

STORES CHANGE HANDS

Two Deals That Were Closed Late Tuesday Afternoon.

R. H. Cusick, better known as "Dick" Cusick, owner of the Cash Grocery, at the northeast corner of Sixteenth street and Missouri avenue, late Tuesday disposed of his store, including the building, also his seven-room residence, adjoining on the north, and a vacant lot to the east of the store, to E. P. Carl, the consideration being private.

Mr. Carl assumed charge of his new purchase today, and will continue the management of the business. Mr. Cusick has not decided what his future occupation will be, nor will he decide on anything until spring.

Mr. Carl has been conducting the Carl grocery store at Sixteenth street and Brown avenue, which store he sold late yesterday to James Wilkerson, an ex-deputy constable. The consideration in the latter deal was also private. Mr. Wilkerson assumed charge today.

There were forty-three additions, and the baptismal rites were conferred upon thirty-one Sunday morning. Three joined by letter from other churches. Twelve who had not made previous profession of faith were taken into the church.

CONTRACT IS AWARDED

Oscar Thomas to Erect Country Club's New Building.

The building committee of the Sedalia Country club met at the offices of Montgomery & Montgomery Tuesday night and awarded to Oscar Thomas the contract for the erection of a new club house, which, when completed, will have cost approximately $10,000.

The building will be erected on the club's land near the state fair grounds. It will be located south of the M., K. & T. railway tracks, and about 225 yards south of the present club house, as previously chronicled in detail in the Democrat-Sentinel.

Work on the new building will be begun at once, in order to have it completed by June 1.

Election of Directors.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Sedalia Undertaking company was held Tuesday, at which meeting the following directors were elected: W. E. Staley, B. M. Lodge, E. R. Andler, John W. Murphy and Logan C. Thomas.

The election of officers will not be held at the present.

FLORAL OFFERINGS

FOR MR. F. W. HIXSON, THE NEW CASHIER OF THE SEDALIA NATIONAL BANK.

A TOKEN OF BROTHER BANKERS

Mr. Henry W. Meuschke, the New President, Recipient of Congratulations From Friends at Home and Abroad.

F. W. Hixson, the new cashier of the Sedalia National bank, and as clever a gentleman as ever resided in Sedalia, received an appreciated token of esteem this morning from the Citizens' National bank, the Sedalia Trust Co. and F. H. Harris, jr., cashier of the Pilot Grove bank, when he appeared for duty and found his desk literally covered with flowers, presented to him as a significance of his hearty welcome to the Queen City of the Prairies.

The flowers were roses, carnations and sweet peas, and attest to the thoughtfulness of the Sedalians and Mr. Harris; for, as Mr. Hixson remarked, it made him feel mighty good, in view of the fact that he is almost an entire stranger in the city.

As a result of his being elected president of the Sedalia National bank, H. W. Meuschke is today receiving the congratulations of hundreds of friends, both at home and abroad.

Mr. Meuschke is one of Sedalia's most conservative and influential business men. He is president of the H. W. Meuschke Dry Goods Co., The Sedalia Trust company, is a member of the board of managers of the state insane asylum at Nevada, and is also a member of the republican state central committee. During his entire career in Sedalia he has been an honest, industrious worker for Sedalia and her interests, and the stockholders of the Sedalia National bank are to be congratulated.

NEW SECRETARY NAMED

At the Meeting of Sedalia Council, K. of C., Last Night.

Arthur Friemel, of the Sedalia Trust company, was elected financial secretary of Sedalia council No. 831, Knights of Columbus, at Tuesday night's meeting of the order, vice James Sullivan, of the Citizens' National bank, who resigned the office, owing to having not sufficient time to attend to the duties.

Emmett Donohue was elected recording secretary of the council, following Mr. Friemel's election, the latter having been filling that office.

W. G. Lynch, lecturer of the council, made an eloquent talk in the interest of the order.

THE KNIFE WAS USED

Mrs. M. C. Alderman Operated Upon in Kansas City.

Dr. M. C. Alderman returned last night from Kansas City, where, on Monday he was present at an operation performed on his wife by Dr. Jabez N. Jackson at University hospital.

THEIR CHAMPION.

WON PRIZE OF $50

GIRARD BLAIR, SON OF MR. AND MRS. E. R. BLAIR, A STUDENT AT COLUMBIA.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE

Clever Young Sedalian Composed a New Air to "Old Missouri"—The Announcement Was Made by President Hill.

The youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Blair, 404 West Broadway, was written of as follows in the University Missourian, published at Columbia, in its issue of Tuesday afternoon:

Girard Blair, of Sedalia, Mo., a junior in the College of Arts and Science, composed a new air for "Old Missouri" and won the $50 prize for a new university song. The prize was announced by Dr. A. Ross Hill, president of the university, this morning.

The prize of $50 for a new university song was contributed by several members of the faculty and citizens of Columbia about six years ago. It has never been awarded because the committee has considered no song submitted heretofore sufficiently deserving. Dr. H. M. Belden, of the English department, is chairman of the committee that awarded the prize.

There were several songs submitted in the contest. The committee divided them into three classes: New words to new music, new words to old music, and a new tune to "Old Missouri." Mr. Blair's contribution was the only one in the third class.

The words for "Old Missouri" were composed several years ago by Professor Wauchope, formerly a member of the English department of the University of Missouri, and now professor of English at the University of South Carolina.

The tune to "Old Missouri' is an old Scotch air, and was first sung as a college song at Cornell university. Since that time it has been used with different wording as a college song at practically every university in the United States. This has been the chief objection to "Old Missouri," the object of the contest being to procure a distinctive Missouri song.

Prof. Belden, in making his report to Dr. Hill, said the committee was at once struck with the new air of the song contributed by Mr. Blair, and said the more the members heard the song the more it commended itself to them.

The Young Man Lives Here.

Arthur Neet, a Sedalian, who was written of in the Chillicothe Constitution Monday as having threatened to commit suicide unless a Chillicothe girl heeded his attentions, is a son of Col. John S. Neet, jr., the auctioneer, of 1612 South Prospect avenue.

Bob Moore's Baby Girl.

Robert Moore, owner of the Moore second-hand store, 204 West Main street, and wife, formerly Miss Mildred Rowe, a Queen City telephone operator, have a baby girl, born at their home this morning. Dr. C. B. Trader was the attending physician, and mother and babe are doing nicely.

Slight Change for the Better.

Prof. J. H. Gehrs, principal of the public schools of California, Mo., who two weeks ago today had his left foot amputated, was at the point of death at Maywood hospital last night, but today there is a slight change for the better in his condition.

HITS LIVING COST

HIGH PRICES CAUSE UNIONS TO GET BUSY IN A WISCONSIN CITY.

LABOR COUNCIL IS TO EXTEND AID

Unable to Make Ends Meet, Innovation Will Carry Beneficiaries Through the Winter at La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., Jan. 12—Alleging that at the present high cost of living laboring men are unable to make ordinary living expenses or to lay aside a nickel for an emergency, officers of the La Crosse Trades and Labor Council, the central labor body here, announces that it has purchased a car load of flour, which will be retailed to union members at wholesale prices, netting the consumers a saving of 15 cents per sack.

The union officials will buy other necessities of life in large quantities at lowest wholesale prices and sell them to union workmen at bare cost to help enable laborers to provide for their families through the winter without resorting to a strike for higher wages, which might cause suffering.

Union labor men here are greatly agitated over the prohibitive prices of necessities and are co-operating with the central union organization to promote the co-operative selling plan.

Officials also announce their intention to establish a bakery, where bread will be made and sold to workmen at the cost of production.

LID CLUBS MUST GO

NO TROUBLE TO GET BOOZE ON SUNDAY IN ST. LOUIS NOWADAYS.

THE "CLUBS" ALL HAVE IT 'ON TAP'

Special Secret Meeting Held Tuesday With a View to Suppressing the Evil—May Get After the "Euchres," Too.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 12.—A war of extermination against the lid lifting clubs of St. Louis is believed to have been the subject of discussion at a special secret meeting held in Chief of Police Creecy's office Tuesday morning

The meeting, called by Col. John A. Laird, president of the police board, Monday night, lasted more than an hour, and was attended by the captains of all the police districts except Captain Pickel and Captain Wilson, who were unavoidably kept away. The captains were called in to Chief Creecy's office singly, where each had a talk with Col. Laird and the chief. As each captain departed he bore with him a slip of paper said to contain the names of the lid clubs in his district.

After the meeting Col. Laird was evasive in his replies to queries as to the nature of the meeting and the matters discussed.

"It was on police matters," he said. "I like to keep in touch with conditions in the various districts, and as I had not seen some of the captains in a long time, I thought this would be a good opportunity."

"Did you discuss lid clubs?" he was asked.

"Yes, he replied. "We have been fighting lid clubs since I have been on the board, and will continue to do so. The lid clubs will be exterminated if it is in our power. What methods we will take to accomplish this, I can not disclose."

"Did you discuss euchres?"

"Yes, we discussed euchres."

"Did you discuss the stage?"

"Yes, we did," with a smile. "No," he corrected, "I can't say that we did discuss theaters officially. The present agitation of the moral side of the stage question is not a matter for police consideration. In my opinion that is a matter which the people themselves must solve.

"They have the remedy at hand. Theater managers are business men. They give the public what the public demands, as a business proposition. If the public insists on immoral or unclean shows, the managers will give them. If the public refuses to patronize such shows, the managers will be forced in self-defense to shelve them."

Chief Creecy referred all questions as to the purpose of the meeting to Col. Laird. The captains were equally non-committal. It is persistently rumored, however, that a war will be immediately begun on the lid clubs, as a result of an understanding said to have been reached between Governor Hadley and the liquor dealers following their recent conference.

The police, it is said, have been secretly acquiring information against the 190 lid lifting clubs during the last few weeks, which is to be made use of in their extirpation.

No High School Exercises.

Owing to review work being in progress, the weekly exercises at the High school were cancelled today.

DEALS AT LAMONTE

J. H. FARLEY PURCHASED THE V. E. KELLER RESIDENCE FOR SUM OF $3,000.

THE PRICE PAID WAS $3,000 CASH

J. W. Berry, Formerly of Sedalia, Gets the Nave Home—With the Coming of Spring, Buildings Are to Be Erected.

During the past few days several property exchanges have been made in the neighboring city of Lamonte.

The most important of the numerous deals was the sale by V. E. Keller of his beautifully situated residence in the outskirts of that place for a consideration of $3,000.

The purchaser was J. H. Farley, who last week sold to Fred and Will Colvin the livery barn and lots utilized by them in their livery and feed business.

J. W. Berry, formerly of Sedalia, Monday closed a deal with William Nave for his residence, directly north of the Missouri Pacific depot in Lamonte, giving in exchange a fine team of black mares and a money consideration. Mr. Nave immediately afterward sold the team mentioned to George Rudy, who resides east of Sedalia, for $425.

Besides numerous sales and exchanges the coming of spring gives promise of considerable building activity in Lamonte, and even now operations have been started on the erection of a few residences.

J. R. Clark, the lumberman at Lamonte, has now partly completed what will, when finished, be the most expensive and well appointed home in that city, which now has more elegant homes than most any place of like size in the country.

Plans are also being formulated for the rebuilding of the brick business block which was destroyed by fire during the past summer.

DEATH OF MRS. TUTTLE

Wife of a Former Representative From Pettis County.

Mrs. Mary Asenath Osgood, wife of W. F. Tuttle, formerly of Dresden, but now of Warrensburg, died suddenly of pneumonia Tuesday morning, January 11, 1910, after a short illness. The Warrensburg Star says:

Mrs. Tuttle was born February 19, 1850, in Lockport, N. Y. She was married to Mr. Tuttle on May 9, 1882, and came to Missouri, residing at Dresden until three years ago, when the family moved to Warrensburg.

She leaves to mourn her demise her husband and six children—Mrs. George Painter, of Dresden; Mrs. H. A. White, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Wilbur F., Jr., of Bakersfield, Cal.; David Francis, teaching at Bonne Terre, Mo., with Harry and Ruth still at home. There are also two step-children whom she mothered from childhood, J. K. Tuttle, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. W. F. Kett, of Berkeley, Cal.

Mrs. Tuttle was a life long member of the Episcopal church, and an earnest worker in its interests so far as her time and strength permitted. She was of a gentle and retiring disposition, devoted to her family and beloved by her friends.

The funeral services will be held at 8:30 Wednesday morning at the residence, 119 East North street. The body will be taken to Dresden for burial. The family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

BE UNDER THE BAN

GAME OF FOOTBALL MAY BE PUT BY LEGISLATURE OF THE "OLD DOMINION."

TALK OF ABOLISHING THE GAME

Protest Against the Sport Is Not Confined to the Uninfluential—What Prominent People Have to Say.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 12.—Football may come under the ban of the law and be placed on a par with pugilism, cock-fighting and assault and battery by the Virginia legislature, if the sentiments expressed today by some of the solons of the Old Dominion are shared by the majority.

Two dead and a half dozen seriously injured in the game was Virginia's record last season, and the legislators believe that they should either abolish the sport or place rigid restrictions around its playing which will relieve it of its apparently dangerous features.

Talk of abolishing the game is loudest in Richmond. This city had not recovered from its grief and sorrow over the death of Archer Christian upon the Georgetown field when the news was flashed over the city that another Virginia lad, Walter Suffrey, had died from injuries received on the gridiron. Then on all sides the protest against the game grew in volume, until it now threatens to bury it.

The protest against the sport is not confined to the uninfluential. This is shown by the interview of Speaker Richard Evelyn Byrd, of the Virginia house of delegates, one of the most influential figures in Virginia's legislative halls, and father of "Young Dick" Byrd, quarterback on the Navy team. Mr. Byrd said some law should be passed to place restrictions around the game, but just how far this should go he could not determine.

Mr. Byrd is not alone among the Virginia legislators who thinks the game should be modified. Col. John S. Harwood, of Richmond, another solon, had a son hurt on the Richmond College team, and he has a horror of the game.

Delegate Throckmorton, of Henrico, has a son who formerly played football and gave his family untold anxiety. It is these legislators who are alarmed over the game as it is played now and who will doubtless lend their influence to have the dangerous features of the sport abolished.

This cry against football recalls the effort some years ago to abolish the game. Then an active fight was waged against it in the Virginia legislature, but it was defeated by Delegate Early, of Greene county, who was center on the Virginia team when he was at the university.

A CHEAP PATH TO NOTORIETY.

Congressman Hollingsworth, of Ohio, just loves to wave the bloody shirt. He is the man who dragged himself out of obscurity into cheap notoriety a few months ago, to the infinite weariness of the country at large by "protesting" against the embellishment of the silver punch bowl on the battleship Mississippi with a portrait of Jefferson Davis.

The brief period during which he basked in the glare of publicity by reason of that episode whetted his appetite and made him long to be noticed again. So, the opportunity presenting, he rises once more to wave the bloody shirt.

This time he wants to oust the bronze statue of Robert E. Lee from the hall of fame in the capitol. We don't know whether Mr. Hollingsworth ever smelt gunpowder himself or not, but if he has a war record we are willing to wager a dollar to a doughnut that any bullets ever fired in his direction were toward his back. The real veterans of the northern army, the men who actually faced fire in that great conflict of half a century ago, have no bitterness in their hearts against Robert E. Lee. They recognize, as did their own great leader, General Grant, the greatness of their foe as a military leader and as a man. And they can feel nothing but contempt for a puny politician, who, for the sake of cheap notoriety, seeks in these days of unity and peace to open afresh the wounds healed by half a century of time.

DREAD OF AN AWAKENING.

The stand-patters become ridiculous when they attempt to account for the present high prices of the necessities of life by bringing forth every conceivable reason but the right one. Editor Lafe Young, of the Des Moines (Ia.) Capital, must have a poor idea of his readers' intelligence when he tells them that the reason why they find it so hard to make both ends meet is because they are living too extravagantly, and says in proof of his assertion:

"A $15 suit of clothes used to be good enough for any of us, but today we are paying $35 for our clothes."

The man of intelligence who pays $35 for a suit of clothes today knows, if Lafe doesn't, that the reason he pays $35 instead of $15 is that the former $15 suit now costs $35.

And Prof. Milton Whitney, of the department of agriculture, writes himself down as a candidate for a professorship in a dotty house by gravely asserting that "people are eating far more now than they did fifty years ago." But even the obliging professor hasn't the temerity to declare that the American people have increased their stomach capacity by 50 per cent or more in a dozen years. And it is in a dozen years—not fifty—that the cost of living has nearly doubled.

The frantic efforts of the republican party to drag in remote and irrevelant considerations for the purpose of blinding the people to the real causes of their distress is evidence that they fear an awakening on the part of a long-suffering and long-deluded public that will sweep them from power at the first opportunity.

NEED NOT FEAR TAFT.

President Taft's special message to congress recommending certain amendments to the interstate commerce law and the enactment of a federal corporation law is not a model of construction. Its turgid sentences lack clarity, but they convey to the casual reader with sufficient clearness the fact that neither the railroads nor the trusts have cause to fear a trust-busting outbreak on the part of Mr. Roosevelt's successor.

Nothing would please the "bad" trusts more than to see a federal corporation law enacted that would put them beyond the regulation of state governments. And nothing could be worse for the interests of the common people than for the state to be deprived of the regulation of corporations doing business in their borders. Then, indeed, would the trusts have the people wholly at their mercy.

MAYOR OF BOSTON

NEW EXECUTIVE, ONCE SNOWED UNDER BY REFORMER HIBBARD, TURNS TABLES.

TUESEAY'S ELECTION PARTYLESS

Banker Storrow, Who Resigned Chamber of Commerce Chair, Runs Second—Two Other Candidates in the Race.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 12.—Boston yesterday, in the first partyless election, held under a new charter, elected former Mayor John P. Fitzgerald to again fill the mayor's chair, this time for a four-year term, giving him 46,928 votes, and a plurality of 1,223 over his nearest opponent, James J. Storrow, banker and former president of the Chamber of Commerce and former chairman of the school board.

To many the most remarkable feature of the election was the small vote of 1,873 given to the present mayor, George A. Hibbard, who received 38,000 votes two years ago, being elected on a reform ticket over Fitzgerald. The fourth mayoralty aspirant, Nathaniel H. Taylor, found only 629 supporters.

The campaign, noteworthy in many ways, was easily Boston's greatest. A record total, 95,125, more than 84 per cent of the total registration, was cast.

Mr. Fitzgerald won his victory in spite of the fact that not one of the daily newspapers of the city advocated his election. He based his campaign on a plea for vindication, his previous term in office having been conspicuous for the exposure, by the finance committee, of graft among a number of his subordinates in the city hall. Like Mr. Storrow, he is a democrat in national politics, and has been a democrat also heretofore in local politics.

Under the provisions of the new charter, the ballots bore no party designation, but only the candidates' names and street addresses.

Mr. Storrow, who resigned the presidency of the Chamber of Commerce to enter the campaign, made a determined fight to gain the chief executiveship of the city, promising the citizens a progressive business administration.

The campagn was probably the costliest ever waged in Boston. Page after page in the newspapers was bought for signed advertisements, lauding various candidates, and the city was plastered with posters. Scores of halls were hired for rallies and expensive headquarters were maintained by the leading candidates in each of the twenty-five wards.

Celebrations by Fitzgerald adherents were held last night in many sections of the city, and the headquarters of the "Little General" on School street, next door to the City hall, was a center of rejoicing, which extended to thousands of enthusiastic supporters in the street until a late hour.

CURTISS BROKE TWO AT AVIATION MEET AT LOS ANGELES YESTERDAY.

THE FRENCHMAN WAS THERE, TOO

Paulhan Again Overshadows American by Winning Plaudits for Daring Flights—Rides in a Twenty-Mile Gale.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 12.—Glenn H. Curtiss, the American aviator, who was completely eclipsed by Louis Paulhan with his spectacular feats on the first day of the aviation meet Monday, yesterday defeated his mercurial French rival in the race for honors.

Paulhan again won the plaudits of the immense throng with daring and spectacular flights, while the less theatrical American reaped more substantial honors.

Curtiss established a new world's record for speed of aeroplanes, carrying a passenger, flying at the rate of fifty-five miles an hour with his manager, Jerome C. Fancuilli, beside him. Also he set two other less important records in aviation.

Not to be outdone, Paulhan took up one of his mechanicians and flew three miles, but failed to equal the speed set by Curtis in his biplane.

The breaking of three records, flights with passengers, the injury of an amateur aviator and four aeroplanes in the air at one time, breasting a strong wind that sported dangerously with the delicate craft, furnished 30,000 spectators at aviation field an exciting finale to an afternoon that promised to be rather tame.

Glenn H. Curtiss, in a Curtiss biplane, established a world's record for speed with passenger—fifty-five miles an hour.

Curtiss, in a Curtiss machine, broke the world's record for time consumed in getting into the air—6 2-5 seconds.

Curtiss, in a Curtiss machine, broke the world's record for short distance covered in "run before leaving ground"—98 feet.

Louis Paulhan, in a Bleriot monoplane, failed in an attempt at the world's height record, making but 400 feet.

Paulhan, in a Bleriot monoplane, carried a passenger twice around the field, a distance of three and a quarter miles.

Edgar S. Smith, aviator, was struck on the head by the propellor of his Langley machine and seriously injured.

SPANISH MINISTER

HAS BEEN RECALLED FOR AN UNPROVOKED ATTACK ON PRESIDENT TAFT.

SAYS HE WAS KEPT FROM ENVOYS

Marquis De Villalobar Complained to King He Was Insulted at Reception at Washington on January 4th.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The Marquis de Villalobar, Spanish minister, has been recalled and transferred to Lisbon. Word to this effect was received in Washington yesterday. The action follows his complaint to Madrid that he had been insulted at a White House reception where ministers were divided from ambassadors by a velvet rope.

The incident at the White House occurred January 4. The minister left in a dudgeon after he had been told by an attache that he could not pass into the space reserved for the higher diplomatic officials. He protested at the first order, and the case was carried to a high official and finally to President Taft himself. The latter refused to allow any infringement of the newly adopted rules.

Other ministers felt as keen anger, it is said, but refrained from expressing it with the openness that marked Villalobar's actions.

The plan of roping off the different grades of representatives was adopted for the first time at the reception.

The blue room was divided and the ambassadors were carefully herded from the ministers. It was after he had paid his respects to the president that the Spanish minister attempted to pass into the ambassador's inclosure. Then came the dispute and Villalobar's departure in a dudgeon, after the president had given permission for the marquis only to speak to the ambassador with whom he wished to confer.

Indignation among the other ministers is reported to be general and whether Villalobar's protest will be followed by similar moves was a question of interest in Washington.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For [illegible] Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal disturbances, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

USE OF SLANG DEFENDED

Picturesque Expressions Would Please Shakespeare.

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 12.—Shakespeare would be greatly pleased with the picturesque American slang of today, acording to Dr. E. A. Allen, of the English department at the University of Missouri.

"Hamlet, a university student, talked slang," he said in a lecture yesterday. Dr. Allen cited the passage where Rosencranz says to Hamlet, "My lord, you once did love me," and Hamlet replies, "So do I still, by these pickers and stealers."

"Pickers and stealers for hands," said Dr. Allen, "reminds one of the expression in use today, 'lunch hooks.' Slang is a part of our language."

AMUSEMENTS

Theater goers in general will no doubt receive with expressions of delight the announcement that "The Gingerbread Man," that charming fairyesque comic opera by A. Baldwin Sloane and Frederick G. Rankin, will visit us for one performance at the Wood's opera house, Sunday evening, Jan. 16. The coming of this company is really one of the events of the theatrical season, as the piece has proven its worth for the past three years to a succession of large audiences in every city in which it has appeared. It is a delightful little story some very clever comedy parts and comely situations, music that is unusually pretty and the locale that lends an unusual atmosphere to it. It is a delightful combination of good entertainment and good music, and has a reputation from coast to coast, for the reason that the management has always kept up its cast. Many of the best vocalists and comedians are included in the roster, and it is only a question of one's capacity for enjoyment that they can get their fill when "The Gingerbread Man" comes to town. The company includes the following well known people in its personnel: William Cameron, Rose Snow, Walley Helsted, Garrick Major, Fred Holmes, Lute Vrohman, the Great Kavano, Helen Keers, Inez Girard, Rose Murray. The entire production, new this season, will be seen on its visit here.

SEDALIA THEATRE.

"The Great John Ganton."

The Great American Play, "Paid in Full."

Local theatrical interest will be stimulated by the coming of "Paid in Full," Eugene Walter's masterpiece of contemporaneous American drama, which the Wagenhals & Kemper company will offer at the Sedalia theater Jan. 14, with a cast of exceptional talent. The famous play, exceeding in popularity any other of the present generation, has revolutionized modern drama. Its author is a pioneer in a style of play-making, which incomparably combining worth and entertainment, has won such resounding applause that other dramatists are striving to follow his pace. Mr. Walter was the first playwright with sufficient daring, and, as it has proved, foresight, to cut adrift from conventionality and tradition and drive right at the heart of things. He had a story to tell a most interesting story of actual persons in the real world of today. It was a narrative of love and ambition, of loyalty and envy, such as is running its course every hour all about us. With striking directness the author went straight at his subject. Take the assurance of 2,500,000 persons and of every critic of this country that it is the American play of this age.

One of the many brilliant dramatic successes achieved by the Messrs. Shubert in recent months, "The Great John Ganton," a play of American finance, is conspicuous. This drama was given its first performance at the Lyric theater in New York. Its success was immediate and critics were unanimous in its praises. The announcement that the Shuberts are sending this attracion in its original form to the Sedalia theater next Saturday, matinee and night, Jan. 15, will therefore be interesting news to play-goers in this part of the state. "The Great John Ganton" tells a story of tremenodus power. The principal character is a man of relentless business methods, who has come into complete domination of the packing business of the world; how he throttles all competition, deals with labor disorders and dictates prices to two hemispheres, is grippingly told in the stage narrative. The conception of John Ganton is said to be one of the most notable contributions to the American stage.

BEST HAIR TONIC

All Over America the News of the Marvelous Dandruff Cures of Parisian Sage Has Spread.

A few years ago there was introduced into America a cure for dandruff, falling hair and all scalp diseases.

News of the quick action of this wonderful invigorator spread rapidly.

And today without any sensational or untrue advertising, Parisian Sage is used extensively in almost every town in America. And what has produced this great demand? Simply this: Parisian Sage does just what we are telling the readers of the Democrat-Sentinel it will do.

We claim, and we back our claim with the W. E. Bard Drug Co.'s money back guarantee, that Parisian Sage is the most invigorating and rejuvenating hair tonic. It cures dandruff, stops falling hair and itching scalp; it makes the hair grow strong and vigorous, yet soft and lustrous. It is the only hair dressing that reaches the root bulb of the hair and destroys the dandruff germ.

And to the women who are reading this simple statement of fact, we want to say that Parisian Sage works wonders with women's hair. It will turn dull, harsh and faded hair into beautiful, radiant and lustrous hair in a few days, and is the most pleasant and satisfying dressing any woman ever used.

Druggists everywhere and W. E. Bard Drug Co. sell Parisian Sage for 50c a large bottle.

HERMAN TRIAL BEGUN

Frances J. Heney Made the Opening Statement for Government.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 12.—Francis J. Heney, in opening the prosecution of Binger Herman, former United States land commissioner, said the government expects to prove that in 1901 timber speculators took advantage of the creation of forest reserves by securing advance information of what school lands would be included in the reserves and by procuring a large number of persons to apply for the school lands lying within the reserve and convey them to the speculators for small sums, and that Herman was in the conspiracy.

The Two Injured Coasters.

Information from St. Mary's hospital, Jefferson City, is that Francis McGinley, who had a leg broken while coasting in that city Sunday, is getting along as well as could be expected.

Charlie McEniry, of this city, another of the victims, is also doing well at his home on West Fourth street.

NO ACCIDENTS IN NATURE.

Every Calamity, No Matter How Great, Has a Definite Beginning.

The avalanche that without a moment's warning rushes headlong down the mountain side is not an accident.

There are no accidents in nature.

For years previous tiny atoms have been crystalizing, and adding their minute weight to the mass which left its base when the accumulation reached a certain point.

Neither is baldness an accident. The infinitely small germ which is the cause of Dandruff and Baldness, feeds silently and long before the result is seen.

The small germ which thrive on the scalp and which are the cause of Baldness and Dandruff cannot exist, however, when Newbro's Herpicide is applied.

Be No "Greater Springfield."

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 12.—At a special election held here yesterday the proposed extension of the city limits was voted down by 1,465 to 1,035, the vote being unusually light. The proposed extension would have increased Springfield's area from five and one-half to ten and one-fourth miles.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

YEARNS FOR HOME

MISS DE JANON NERVOUS FROM CONFINEMENT IS ALLOWED TO ATTEND THEATER.

COHEN IS TO BE PROSECUTED

Girl on Hearing News Says She Will Be His Chief Defender in Court —She Is Anxious to Assist Him Financially.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Roberta De Janon, the young Philadelphia heiress, who was arrested here Monday with Frederick Cohen, the hotel waiter, with whom she eloped December 29, became nervous last night after spending twenty-four hours in a police station.

The girl, who related to the police a remarkable story of her attachment for the Philadelphia waiter as an adopted father, grew weary of waiting for the arrival of detectives from Philadelphia, who are to take her to her grandfather's home from which she fled in disguise.

Information reached the authorities that the Philadelphia officers probably would not arrive in time to return with the girl and her elopement partner on a night train for the east.

As Miss De Janon is merely being held and no charge is made against her, she was permitted to attend a theatrical performance in company with detectives.

Later she was returned to the station to await the arrival of the officers. Cohen remained in a cell at the Chicago avenue station.

Miss DeJanon said that if court proceedings were begun against Cohen she would be his chief defender. She was emphatic in her declarations that the elopement was all her fault, and that Cohen was in no way to blame. She is anxious to return to her home.

"Mr. Cohen is in the right," she said, when told the announcement that Cohen would be proescuted had been made in Philadelphia. "I will promise never to have anything more to do with Mr. Cohen. I will try to give him some money if my grandparents will allow it. Mr. Cohen told me he had given him wife $200 before we started on our trip. I would like to see his family well provided for."

Will Prosecute Cohen.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 12.—District Attorney Samuel P. Rotan announced last afternoon that, in conjunction with the police department, he would prosecute Frederick Cohan, the waiter who ran away with Roberta De Janon. Whether Cohan will be charged with abduction, conspiracy or another serious offense the district attorney said would be determined at a conference later between himself and Henry F. Walton, counsel for Mr. Buist, the grandfather of the girl.

"Cohan," Mr Rotan said, "is coming here without extradition on a warrant charging abduction, and will be arraigned before a magistrate for a hearing. It will not be necessary for Miss De Janon to appear at this hearing if the evidence is sufficient to hold Cohen for court. If we decide upon a new charge another warrant will be obtained before Cohen's arrival."

MOB IS THWARTED

GOVERNOR ANNULS RAILROAD SCHEDULE AND ORDERS OUT MILITIA.

HAD 300 AWAITING THE ATTACK

Three Negroes Accused of Killing a White Man, on a Big Four Railway Train Are Guarded in Illinois Jail.

Vienna, Ill., Jan. 12.—Sheriff John T. Mathis and 300 special deputies were sleeping on their arms last night, awaiting a mob that was reported on the way from Harrisburg and Eldorado to lynch three negroes in jail here, charged with the murder of Allen Clark, a white man.

Four companies of state militia, from Cairo, Mount Vernon, Paris and Danville, were ordered last night to mobolize at once and proceed to Vienna. At the request of Govenor Deneen, all Big Four trains, southbound, were annulled last night, so that it would be impossible for a mob from Harrisburg or Eldorado to reach Vienna and overpower the guard before the arrival of the troops.

Sheriff Mathis declares he will not give up his prisoners and if the jail is attacked blood will be shed. Acting on Governor Deneen's orders, he did not attempt to take the negroes out of town last night.

Three drunken negroes, Hosea Taborn, Harry Taborn and Alexander Jenks, shot and fatally wounded Clark, a rural mail carrier, on a Big Four train between Harrisburg and Eldorado Saturday. He died last night. The negroes were arrested and brought to Vienna and placed in the Johnson county jail.

When the news of Clark's death reached Harrisburg the feeling against the negroes was such that a mob began to form at once. The first news to reach Vienna that there would be an attempt to lynch the negroes came through A. W. Sanderson, a Big Four conductor, who reported to Sheriff Mathis when his train reached here.

There has been no particular demonstration against the negroes in Vienna, and the only danger of a mob appears to come from Harrisburg, the slain man's home, and Eldorado, where, it is reported, between 500 and 600 men had formed and were only awaiting means of transportation to Vienna.

State Attorney Thomas E. Sheridan said last night that Hosea Taborn had confessed to the killing of the mail carrier and implicated the other two negroes. The coroner will hold an inquest today and the negroes will be given a preliminary hearing Saturday.

Militia on the Ground.

Vienna, Ill., Jan. 12.—Three companies of the Illinois militia arrived here this morning to protect the three negroes in jail, accused of killing Allen Clark. Everything is quiet, and no trouble is feared from the mob.

CROP AVERAGE SHORT

Realize Only 70 Cents an Acre on Crop in Ten Years.

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 12.—S. M. Jordan, the Missouri corn man, says farmers in Missouri on an average have cleared only 70 cents an acre on corn in the last ten years.

The average yield of corn to the acre in Missouri in that period is 28.8 bushels, which is 1.4 bushels more than the average last year. The average price for the last ten years is a little less than 45 cents a bushel. At this price the corn that grew on an average acre at the average market price would bring only $12.96.

Mr. Jordan says the best and perhaps the most conservative estimate of the cost of producing an acre of corn in Missouri is $12.26.

Missouri farmers last year planted 7,800,000 acres of corn.

Maysville, Mo., Jan. 12.—James Hector feels that the new year is treating him pretty well, as he has received a draft for $200 from a son who lives in the west.

Adversities of life have been the portion of the worn and bent veteran for many years, one of them being the discomfort of wearing shoes that refuse to fit his feet.

With $200 on hand he feels rich, and expects to spend a portion of it for shoes that will conform to the shape of his feet.

A NUN TO GET $200,000

She Was the Favorite Niece of Deceased Wealthy Priest.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 12.—It is expected that the Sacred Heart convent will be the largest beneficiary in the estate of the late Michael McFaul, whose funeral was held yesterday morning at the Old Cathedral. Few priests in St. Louis have died possessed of such wealth as this modest, retiring assistant at the cathedral, whose asceticism was referred to yesterday by the preacher of the day, Rev. J. J. Head, as that of an "anchorite."

Father McFaul's father was a pork packer who made much money for his time. Fifty years ago he died, leaving his fortune to his son, and since then Father McFaul has scarcely touched it. Mostly in real estate, it has grown in value, the income piling up on the principal, until it is estimated at more than $200,000 today. His favorite niece, a nun of the Sacred Heart, Mother Angela Donnelly, will probably inherit practically all the estate, it is believed.

HANGING IS POSTPONED

Governor Hadley Responsible for Negro Not Swinging.

Carthage, Mo., Jan. 12.—The hanging of William Wilson, a negro found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Millie Plum, a white woman, at Carl Junction in July, 1907, which was scheduled to take place in Carthage today, has been postponed on account of a reprieve granted by Governor Hadley. The date of execution has been set for February 18. Wilson's attorneys are making an effort to have the sentence commuted to life imprisonment in the state prison.

Sheriff Arch McDonald had completed nearly all arrangements for the hanging bee, including a stockade on the west side of the jail. The sheriff has received thousands of applications for admission to witness the execution. Only a few of them can be granted in case the hanging takes place in February, as not more than seventy-five persons can be admitted in the stockade.

To Keep the Hair Light and Fluffy

(From Chicago Inter-Ocean.)

The proper care of the hair does not require a woman to scour her scalp with soap and drench her hair with water until a shampoo, including drying the hair, takes the better part of the day. In fact, authorities say that the less soap and water used on the hair the better, as the alkali and moisture tend to make the hair coarse, dull and brittle.

If you want to keep the scalp clean and the hair light and fluffy, try dry shampooing. Put in a quart jar, or any other handy container, four ounces of powdered orris root and four ounces of therox. Stir and shake until thoroughly mixed. A beautiful cleansing powder with a delicate perfume will be the result.

Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on the head and then brush it well through the hair. This brings out the natural color of the hair, makes it soft and glossy, and if continued regularly, tends to make the hair long and abundant, for it is a natural hair grower.

A WARNING IS ISSUED

Mississippi River Is Assuming a Serious Aspect.

St. Louis, Jan. 12.—Rain today in Missouri and northern points caused the Mississippi to assume a threatening aspect. The weather bureau issued a warning to river men.

The Mississippi is gorged with ice from Chester, Ill., to this city, and the additional precipitation and the melting snow will cause the river to rise.

The river gauge this morning stood at 21.9, a rise of seven-tenths of a foot in twenty-four hours.

SALOON THOUGHT NO. 289.

How many merchants and business men would expect as prosperous a city if we were licensing Montgomery Ward or Sears and Roebuck to collect $1,000,000 a year in the city limits of Sedalia? They would at once figure that this is $40 apiece for every man, woman and child in Sedalia, and nothing but depression COULD result; yet the brewers and distillers can come into Sedalia and get our citizens' names on petitions to let them collect $1,000,000 a year of our money and give us ten times worse than NOTHING for the money. By the time we take care of the brewers and distillers' product and entertain their guests in our jails and court rooms, we are very much more the loser. Not in ridicule, is it any wonder a man living in the city and owning personal property on his farm twenty miles from town must pay CITY taxes on that property? Is it any wonder we are in debt? Is it any wonder they can throw money to the four winds to keep this $1,000,000 coming in? Surely this is not all hard to see! Will we ever wake up or not?

NEWS OF THE RAIL

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES NOT SATISFIED WITH OIL BURNERS.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Oil burning locomotives are more or less of a failure, according to the New York Central railroad, which, after a season's trial, has elected in favor of coal as the most economiacl fuel.

"The conditions in Mexico and the southwest of this country are entirely different," explained Howard Ingersoll, assistant to the general manager of the Central lines.

"Our experiments show that the oil will not run properly in cold weather, which necessitates the changing back to coal for the winter months."

The company has cleared a space of 100 feet wide on each side of its track all through the forest preserves to lessen the danger of forest fires when coal is used.

Mail Wanted at Foster.

Residents of Foster, Mo., are very anxious to get a regular mail service every day. The indications are that Uncle Sam will take a hand in the game before long and see to it that the long felt want is filled.

For the last four years the people of Foster have been worse off than the people in the hills of Arkansas in regard to train and mail service. It frequently takes about forty-eight hours to get mail from Kansas City or Butler. There are a good many people here who would like to find out about their friends dying before the resurrection, so it is hoped that Uncle Sam will get busy.

The Missouri Pacific is not only preparing to repair its tracks, but is replacing many old bridges with new steel structures. The improvements include both the Central branch and the Omaha division.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. REPORTS WERE NOT EXAGGERATED

As Many Local People Are Testifying.

The Root Juice instructors made many lasting friends while here. Their wonderful remedy has done worlds of good at this point and reports of cures are being circulated from every direction. The drug store is more busy than ever wrapping up Root Juice and listening to the many flattering reports of the great good it is doing.

Mrs. Sarah Collins said: "I used to bloat so at times I could hardly get my breath; sour gases would form in my stomach and dull, heavy headaches were at times so bad I felt I would go crazy; my tongue coated and I always had a bad taste in my mouth. My hands and feet were cold at times and at other times they would burn like fire, but thank my good stars, after hearing so much about Root Juice, I went to the drug store and bought a bottle of it and after using the first bottle I went back and bought two more bottles. I have used it all and don't think I will need any more, as I feel as well as I ever did in my life."

Root Juice seems to be good for any trouble of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or blood. It is sold for one dollar a bottle or three for two dollars and a half at Wilcox's drug store.

G. A. WIDDER, CANDY SALESMAN, WAS ATTACKED BY ROBERT MONTAGUE.

THE LATTER TAKEN IN CUSTODY

C. C. Kelly Returned Last Night From Marshall, Where He Assisted in the Prosecution of Montague.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

C. C. Kelly returned last night from Marshall, where he went to represent G. A. Widder, the candy salesman, in the prosecution of Robert Montague, better known as "Bob" Montague, who is connected with a wholesale grocery house there, and who had been arrested for making what is said to have been a brutal assault on Mr. Widder last Friday.

Montague entered a plea of guilty and was fined $1 and costs, a total of about $10, which he paid.

The assault was committed in the wholesale grocery firm's office last Friday. Mr. Widder entered the office to await the arrival of the president of the company, who was to give him an order.

Without any provocation, it is alleged, Montague struck Mr. Widder a forceful blow with his fist in the back of the head.

Just as Mr. Widder turned to see who his assailant was, Montague administered another blow to Mr. Widder on his face, resulting in a badly swollen and discolored left eye.

Mr. Widder at once began to defend himself, and seized Montague by the throat, but by that time other employes of the firm interfered and separated Mr. Widder from his assailant.

Mr. Widder swore out a warrant for Montague's arrest, with the foregoing result.

Mr. Carl has been conducting the Carl grocery store at Sixteenth street and Brown avenue, which store he sold late yesterday to James Wilkerson, an ex-deputy constable. The consideration in the latter deal was also private. Mr. Wilkerson assumed charge today.

FLORAL OFFERINGS

FOR MR. F. W. HIXSON, THE NEW CASHIER OF THE SEDALIA NATIONAL BANK.

A TOKEN OF BROTHER BANKERS

Mr. Henry W. Meuschke, the New President, Recipient of Congratulations From Friends at Home and Abroad.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

F. W. Hixson, the new cashier of the Sedalia National bank, and as clever a gentleman as ever resided in Sedalia, received an appreciated token of esteem this morning from the Citizens' National bank, the Sedalia Trust Co. and F. H. Harris, jr., cashier of the Pilot Grove bank, when he appeared for duty and found his desk literally covered with flowers, presented to him as a significance of his hearty welcome to the Queen City of the Prairies.

The flowers were roses, carnations and sweet peas, and attest to the thoughtfulness of the Sedalians and Mr. Harris; for, as Mr. Hixson remarked, it made him feel mighty good, in view of the fact that he is almost an entire stranger in the city.

As a result of his being elected president of the Sedalia National bank, H. W. Meuschke is today receiving the congratulations of hundreds of friends, both at home and abroad.

Mr. Meuschke is one of Sedalia's most conservative and influential business men. He is president of the H. W. Meuschke Dry Goods Co. The Sedalia Trust company, is a member of the board of managers of the state insane asylum at Nevada, and is also a member of the republican state central committee. During his entire career in Sedalia he has been an honest, industrious worker for Sedalia and her interests, and the stockholders of the Sedalia National bank are to be congratulated.

WON PRIZE OF $50

GIRARD BLAIR, SON OF MR. AND MRS. E. R. BLAIR, A STUDENT AT COLUMBIA.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCE

Clever Young Sedalian Composed a New Air to "Old Missouri"—The Announcement Was Made by President Hill.

The youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Blair, 404 West Broadway, was written of as follows in the University Missourian, published at Columbia, in its issue of Tuesday afternoon:

Girard Blair, of Sedalia, Mo., a junior in the College of Arts and Science, composed a new air for "Old Missouri" and won the $50 prize for a new university song. The prize was announced by Dr. A. Ross Hill, president of the university, this morning.

The prize of $50 for a new university song was contributed by several members of the faculty and citizens of Columbia about six years ago. It has never been awarded because the committee has considered no song submitted heretofore sufficiently deserving. Dr. H. M. Belden, of the English department, is chairman of the committee that awarded the prize.

There were several songs submitted in the contest. The committee divided them into three classes: New words to new music, new words to old music, and a new tune to "Old Missouri." Mr. Blair's contribution was the only one in the third class.

The words for "Old Missouri" were composed several years ago by Professor Wauchope, formerly a member of the English department of the University of Missouri, and now professor of English at the University of South Carolina

The tune to "Old Missouri' is an old Scotch air, and was first sung as a college song at Cornell university. Since that time it has been used with different wording as a college song at practically every university in the United States. This has been the chief objection to "Old Missouri," the object of the contest being to procure a distinctive Missouri song.

Prof. Belden, in making his report to Dr. Hill, said the committee was at once struck with the new air of the song contributed by Mr. Blair, and said the more the members heard the song the more it commended itself to them.

The Young Man Lives Here.

Arthur Neet, a Sedalian, who was written of in the Chillicothe Constitution Monday as having threatened to commit suicide unless a Chillicothe girl heeded his attentions, is a son of Col. John S. Neet, jr., the auctioneer, of 1612 South Prospect avenue.

HITS LIVING COST

HIGH PRICES CAUSE UNIONS TO GET BUSY IN A WISCONSIN CITY.

LABOR COUNCIL IS TO EXTEND AID

Unable to Make Ends Meet, Innovation Will Carry Beneficiaries Through the Winter at La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., Jan. 12—Alleging that at the present high cost of living laboring men are unable to make ordinary living expenses or to lay aside a nickel for an emergency, officers of the La Crosse Trades and Labor Council, the central labor body here, announces that it has purchased a car load of flour, which will be retailed to union members at wholesale prices, netting the consumers a saving of 15 cents per sack.

The union officials will buy other necessities of life in large quantities at lowest wholesale prices and sell them to union workmen at bare cost to help enable laborers to provide for their families through the winter without resorting to a strike for higher wages, which might cause suffering.

Union labor men here are greatly agitated over the prohibitive prices of necessities and are co-operating with the central union organization to promote the co-operative selling plan.

Officials also announce their intention to establish a bakery, where bread will be made and sold to workmen at the cost of production.

LID CLUBS MUST GO

NO TROUBLE TO GET BOOZE ON SUNDAY IN ST. LOUIS NOWADAYS.

THE "CLUBS" ALL HAVE IT 'ON TAP'

Special Secret Meeting Held Tuesday With a View to Suppressing the Evil—May Get After the "Euchres," Too.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 12.—A war of extermination against the lid lifting clubs of St. Louis is believed to have been the subject of discussion at a special secret meeting held in Chief of Police Creecy's office Tuesday morning

The meeting, called by Col. John A. Laird, president of the police board, Monday night, lasted more than an hour, and was attended by the captains of all the police districts except Captain Pickel and Captain Wilson, who were unavoidably kept away. The captains were called in to Chief Creecy's office singly, where each had a talk with Col. Laird and the chief. As each captain departed he bore with him a slip of paper said to contain the names of the lid clubs in his district.

After the meeting Col. Laird was evasive in his replies to queries as to the nature of the meeting and the matters discussed.

"It was on police matters," he said. "I like to keep in touch with conditions in the various districts, and as I had not seen some of the captains in a long time, I thought this would be a good opportunity."

"Did you discuss lid clubs?" he was asked.

"Yes, he replied. "We have been fighting lid clubs since I have been on the board, and will continue to do so. The lid clubs will be exterminated if it is in our power. What methods we will take to accomplish this, I can not disclose."

"Did you discuss euchres?"

"Yes, we discussed euchres."

"Did you discuss the stage?"

"Yes, we did," with a smile. "No," he corrected, "I can't say that we did discuss theaters officially. The present agitation of the moral side of the stage question is not a matter for police consideration. In my opinion that is a matter which the people themselves must solve.

"They have the remedy at hand. Theater managers are business men. They give the public what the public demands, as a business proposition. If the public insists on immoral or unclean shows, the managers will give them. If the public refuses to patronize such shows, the managers will be forced in self-defense to shelve them."

Chief Creecy referred all questions as to the purpose of the meeting to Col. Laird. The captains were equally non-committal. It is persistently rumored, however, that a war will be immediately begun on the lid clubs, as a result of an understanding said to have been reached between Governor Hadley and the liquor dealers following their recent conference.

The police, it is said, have been secretly acquiring information against the 190 lid lifting clubs during the last few weeks, which is to be made use of in their extirpation.

DEALS AT LAMONTE

J. H. FARLEY PURCHASED THE V. E. KELLER RESIDENCE FOR SUM OF $3,000.

THE PRICE PAID WAS $3,000 CASH

J. W. Berry, Formerly of Sedalia, Gets the Nave Home—With the Coming of Spring, Buildings Are to Be Erected.

(From Wednesday's Daily)

During the past few days several property exchanges have been made in the neighboring city of Lamonte.

The most important of the numerous deals was the sale by V. E. Keller of his beautifully situated residence in the outskirts of that place for a consideration of $3,000.

The purchaser was J. H. Farley, who last week sold to Fred and Will Colvin the livery barn and lots utilized by them in their livery and feed business.

J. W. Berry, formerly of Sedalia, Monday closed a deal with William Nave for his residence, directly north of the Missouri Pacific depot in Lamonte, giving in exchange a fine team of black mares and a money consideration. Mr. Nave immediately afterward sold the team mentioned to George Rudy, who resides east of Sedalia, for $425.

Besides numerous sales and exchanges the coming of spring gives promise of considerable building activity in Lamonte, and even now operations have been started on the erection of a few residences.

J. R. Clark, the lumberman at Lamonte, has now partly completed what will, when finished, be the most expensive and well appointed home in that city, which now has more elegant homes than most any place of like size in the country.

Plans are also being formulated for the rebuilding of the brick business block which was destroyed by fire during the past summer.

DEATH OF MRS. TUTTLE

Wife of a Former Representative From Pettis County.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Mrs. Mary Asenath Osgood, wife of W. F. Tuttle, formerly of Dresden, but now of Warrensburg, died suddenly of pneumonia Tuesday morning, January 11, 1910, after a short illness. The Warrensburg Star says:

Mrs. Tuttle was born February 19, 1850, in Lockport, N. Y. She was married to Mr. Tuttle on May 9, 1882, and came to Missouri, residing at Dresden until three years ago, when the family moved to Warrensburg.

She leaves to mourn her demise her husband and six children—Mrs. George Painter, of Dresden; Mrs. H. A. White, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Wilbur F., Jr., of Bakersfield, Cal.; David Francis, teaching at Bonne Terre, Mo., with Harry and Ruth still at home. There are also two step-children whom she mothered from childhood, J. K. Tuttle, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. W. F. Kett, of Berkeley, Cal.

Mrs. Tuttle was a life long member of the Episcopal church, and an earnest worker in its interests so far as her time and strength permitted. She was of a gentle and retiring disposition, devoted to her family and beloved by her friends.

The funeral services will be held at 8:30 Wednesday morning at the residence, 119 East North street. The body will be taken to Dresden for burial. The family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

HON. D. E. KENNEDY

MADE PEOPLE OF JEFFERSON CITY HAPPY BY HIS TALK SUNDAY NIGHT.

"SEDALIA FAVORS NEW CAPITOL"

"Ninety Per Cent of the Voters of Pettis County Want a New Building Outrivaling That of Any Other State in Union."

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

In the course of a few remarks at the Knights of Columbus banquet at St. Peter's hall last night, Hon. D. E. Kennedy, of Sedalia, probate judge of Pettis county, gave expressions of the sentiment prevailing in that part of the state in regard to the building of a new capitol, says the Jefferson City Post of Monday.

Mr. Kennedy said that the old rivalry which once existed between Sedalia and Jefferson City is a thing of the past and that now the relations are most cordial.

"Ninety per cent of the voters of Pettis county," said Mr. Kennedy, "will vote for the adoption of the constitutional amendment providing for the building of a new capitol commensurate with the dignity of the great state of Missouri.

Ninety per cent of the voters of Pettis county want to see a capitol erected upon the beautiful hills of Jefferson City that will outrival the capitol of any state in the union."

The remarks of Mr. Kennedy were received with tremendous applause, for the sentiment he voiced was good news, indeed, to the citizens of Jefferson City.

WATCHMAN! WHAT OF THE FIGHT?

William H. Taft, president of the United States, today occupies a position which not one of his humble subjects envies. The usual bland and smiling countenance is perturbed and trouble is weighing heavily on his usually care-free heart.

The position of president of a great republic and official leader of a party of politicians is not one of glamor alone, but is fraught with woes that bow down the heart.

When William H. Taft, the subtle jurist, mild administrator and great pacificator, was elected to succeed the rough rider, the wise prophets declared that the era of turbulency was passed, and that peace and quietude would reign. Instead of the show of the whitened teeth, the expansive smile would greet the caller at the White House. Instead of the big stick there would be the glad hand. Instead of turmoil there would be quiet. Instead of the panoply of militarism there would be the white dove of peace.

How rudely have our dreams been shattered! How quickly the sunshine has been dispelled! No sooner had we settled down and concluded that football and families could be regulated without executive interference than the storm breaks which threatens to shatter the foundation upon which the republican party rests and which strikes fear into the heart of the chieftain. Never before have the daily press and the magazines been so crowded with war talk as since the present peace administration has been in power. Insurgents vs. regulars. Cannon vs. LaFollette. Aldrich vs. Cummis, these are some of the tidings of peace and joy which the press has been called upon to print. The grim-visaged front of the Roosevelt dynasty has scarce been smoothed. Wrangles, dissensions, exposures and investigations have characterized an administration where naught but sweetness and light was to reign.

When all nations were to look to the great light that shone from the end of Pennsylvania avenue, when every faction was to be mollified, every difference allayed and every cloud dispelled, we are treated to a series of fulminations which must make the African lion hunter feel ashamed at the pink tea methods of his own administrations.

After the tariff fight, in which the Taft smile did not beam its way into the public heart far enough to dispel the shadows that the trust tariff had thrown, there came the Crane incident, a little affair which will long be remembered for the discourteous manner in which one of the most cultured and educated men in this country was removed from an important diplomatic post. The genial executive could not ward off the storm of protest that followed.

Then came the Ballinger trouble, in which the most serious charges were made against a favorite of the president's cabinet. The black spots showed through the executive and justice department whitewash brush, and an investigation was ordered.

And now the lightning is flashing as never before in this administration of sunlight and calm. William H. Taft, president of the United States, has dismissed Gifford Pinchot, chief forester of the United States, champion of conservation and favorite of ex-President Theodore Roosevelt.

Pinchot is one of the most expert foresters in the world, a man who has done more to preserve to the people the rights to the nation's resources than all the Seattle trust attorneys and campaign fund raisers put together, a man whose services were repeatedly recognized by Mr. Roosevelt.

It is true, Mr. Pinchot was probably goaded on by the enemies of Mr. Taft, and the president, in the interest of executive discipline, may have found it necessary to punish him severely. Even the brightest boys in the class sometimes become unruly and must be taken into the wardrobe and soundly spanked. But what is this we hear—enemies of Taft and his administration! We thought there would be no enemies. We looked for naught but sweetness and light. We thought the instruments of torture had been burned when the big stick was thrown away. How we have been deceived with the efficacy of the Taft balmy nature!

So, with the lightning flashing all about us, with a resolution to invsetigate somebody bobbing up every day, with popular officials being dismissed and with trouble brewing everywhere, we again reflect over the beautiful weather which Prof. Willis Moore, of the weather bureau, promised Taft for his inauguration day.

WITH THE REACTIONARIES.

The mask off. Recent press dispatches from Washington indicate that President Taft is about to take a definite stand against the republican insurgents. He will no longer blow hot and cold, but will allign himself squarely with the reactionary element of his party, where by nature, training and association he belongs.

Insurgents, it is said, are to be ignored as far as possible in the distribution of federal patronage and all the members in congress active in opposition to the reactionary Taft-Cannon-Aldrich policies are to have the fact brought forcibly to their attention that they are persona non grata at the White House.

According to the reports of Washington correspondents, as published in the republican papers of reactionary tendencies, the campaign against the insurgents is to be carried to even greater lengths. The weak-kneed ones will be forced into line by threats or cajolery, and, all else failing to quell the insurrection, the rebellious republicans are to feel the hand of the national organization against them in their homes. The plan is for the organization at Washington to simulate opposition to renomination of these congressmen by diverse local activities. Rival republican aspirants for their places, of known "safe and sound" proclivities, are to be encouraged and abetted in upsetting the cantankerous ones

President Taft is reported as fully approving the scheme, realizing at last that he can not occupy a position of neutrality between the two factions with satisfaction to himself or anybody else.

The progressive republicans, who, with a faith sublime and a gullibility pathetic, clung to the hope that "at the right moment" the president would allign himself with the forces of the party opposed to the reactionary policies of Cannon and Aldrich, will grieve. But even to the disappointed ones it must be a relief to have the suspense ended. It is worth something to know definitely and positively, without quibbling or equivocation, where the president stands.

WORLD HAPPENINGS.

This week gives promise of much interesting news furnished by a wide variety of happenings in many parts of the world. The situation in Nicaragua is still regarded as interesting, while nearer home there will be the proceedings in congress, with possibly further developments in the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy. In Canada th Dominion parliament will resume its session, following the Christmas recess, and will at once take up the much discussed navy bill. It is expected the discussion over this measure will be the most important ever held in the Canadian parliament, the point at issue being whether Canada shall contribute Dreadnaughts to the British navy or start a navy of her own.

The exciting election campaign in Great Britain will absorb public attention on the other side. The pollings will commence Friday and will increase in number day by day. It is expected the result of the election will be pretty clear by Jan. 21, although the whole of the 7,500,000 electors will not finish polling until Jan. 28.

Boston will hold its first election on Tuesday under its new plan of city government, one of the principal features of which is the nomination of candidates by petition. With four candidates in the race for mayor, the campaign has been one of the most exciting ever witnessed in the Hub.

THE MEAT MARKET.

While the tariff has no effect on the price of wheat, of which we produce a large surplus, it probably has an effect upon the price of meats, of which we should produce a large surplus if the beef trust did not restrict the supply.

In an open and free market the supply of cattle, sheep and hogs would force down the price of meat, but the Chicago and Omaha packers had nearly exterminated competition in the east even before they consolidated into the beef trust. Under this combination the supply of meat is carefully proportioned to the ability of the consumer to pay.

MOB IS THWARTED

GOVERNOR ANNULS RAILROAD SCHEDULE AND ORDERS OUT MILITIA.

HAD 300 AWAITING THE ATTACK

Three Negroes Accused of Killing a White Man, on a Big Four Railway Train Are Guarded in Illinois Jail.

Vienna, Ill., Jan. 12.--Sheriff John T. Mathis and 300 special deputies were sleeping on their arms last night, awaiting a mob that was reported on the way from Harrisburg and Eldorado to lynch three negroes in jail here, charged with the murder of Allen Clark, a white man.

Four companies of state militia, from Cairo, Mount Vernon, Paris and Danville, were ordered last night to mobolize at once and proceed to Vienna. At the request of Govenor Deneen, all Big Four trains, southbound, were annulled last night, so that it would be impossible for a mob from Harrisburg or Eldorado to reach Vienna and overpower the guard before the arrival of the troops.

Sheriff Mathis declares he will not give up his prisoners and if the jail is attacked blood will be shed. Acting on Governor Deneen's orders, he did not attempt to take the negroes out of town last night.

Three drunken negroes, Hosea Taborn, Harry Taborn and Alexander Jenks, shot and fatally wounded Clark, a rural mail carrier, on a Big Four train between Harrisburg and Eldorado Saturday. He died last night. The negroes were arrested and brought to Vienna and placed in the Johnson county jail.

When the news of Clark's death reached Harrisburg the feeling against the negroes was such that a mob began to form at once. The first news to reach Vienna that there would be an attempt to lynch the negroes came through A. W. Sanderson, a Big Four conductor, who reported to Sheriff Mathis when his train reached here.

There has been no particular demonstration against the negroes in Vienna, and the only danger of a mob appears to come from Harrisburg, the slain man's home, and Eldorado, where, it is reported, between 500 and 600 men had formed and were only awaiting means of transportation to Vienna.

State Attorney Thomas E. Sheridan said last night that Hosea Taborn had confessed to the killing of the mail carrier and implicated the other two negroes. The coroner will hold an inquest today and the negroes will be given a preliminary hearing Saturday.

Militia on the Ground.

Vienna, Ill., Jan. 12.—Three companies of the Illinois militia arrived here this morning to protect the three negroes in jail, accused of killing Allen Clark. Everything is quiet, and no trouble is feared from the mob.

MINISTER SKIPPED

WARRANT WAS READY TO SERVE WHILE DIVINE WAS EXHORTING FLOCK.

WAS ALLOWED TO FINISH SERMON

Evangelist Accused of Wife Desertion Climbs Through Window and Escapes—What the Woman Says.

Piqua, Ohio, Jan. 11.—While at the climax of his exhortation, the Rev. Elmer E. Davidson, an evangelist, of Washington, Ind., who is conducting revival meetings at the Church of Christ here, was interrupted by a patrolman, who had a warrant for the arrest of the minister on a charge of deserting his wife, Mrs. Laura B. Davidson.

Deacons of the church prevailed upon the officer to withhold the execution of the warrant until after the completion of the services in order to prevent any demonstration on the part of the congregation.

After offering the benediction, Mr. Davidson stepped into the vestibule in the rear of the pulpit to get his overcoat. Before any one knew what he was about he slipped through the Sunday school room into the basement and out of the church through a window.

The woman claiming Dr. Davidson as her husband is a cripple. The minister has told friends he has only befriended her in taking her to and from church in his carriage occasionally. She claims to be his common law wife, and insists he had a ceremony performed legalizing the marriage.

It is said that the church at Washington, Ind., of which Dr. Davidson was pastor for many years, believes in his innocence.

Dr. Davidson is now missing. Since his evasion of the police he has not been seen. He did not wait to take clothes with him but those he wore.

BOY KILLED COASTING

Lad on Other Sled in Critical Condition as Result of Collision.

La Grange, Mo., Jan. 11.—Westhoff Elges, 13 years old, died here today from injuries sustained Sunday while coasting, and Clarence Guilfoile, another lad about the same age, is in a critical condition.

The two boys, each with a coaster loaded with young ladies, were coasting on opposite hills, and while going at a high speed collided in the valley between the hills, the boys' heads crashing together.

Elges' skull was crushed, while Guilfoil suffered internal injuries.

About three years ago while young Elges and Guilfoile were skating with another boy at this place the ice gave way, allowing the three to sink into the water.

Guilfoile, being a good swimmer, succeeded in pulling to shore young Elges, who was killed in the collision Sunday, but the third boy drowned before Guilfoile could reach him.

TAKES FIRST CAR RIDE

D. O. Lowry, of Princeton, Mo., Not an Extensive Traveler.

Princeton, Mo., Jan. 11.—It would seem in this day and age that it would be almost impossible to find a man in good mental and physical standing who had never experienced the joys of a ride on a train, yet such was the case with D. O. Lowry, at least, until a few days ago.

Mr. Lowry has been in the city attending circuit court, and before leaving stated that he had never been inside of a passenger coach until the trip to court. He also stated that he had been married twelve years and his six days' stay here was the longest period he was ever away from home. Lowry seemed to be mighty glad to go back, too.

A "Good Thing" Works Both Ways.

A good friend a few months ago came to the Herald and asked us to withhold a news item that concerned him. We have never heard whether he ever asks his grocer to quit selling groceries, or the dry goods merchant to quit selling dry goods. News is our stock in trade and not until we can get a general agreement with merchants and stockmen to quit selling their line of goods shall we relinquish the privilege of selling news. —Bolivar Herald.

A CORROBORATION

Of Interest to Sedalia Readers.

For months Sedalia citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills, by residents of this locality.

Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable?

Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement?

No stronger proof of merit can be had than cures that have stood the test of time.

The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Sedalia reader:

Mrs. William Ricks, 605 W. Fifth St., Sedalia, Mo., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and can say that they did me a world of good. I had kidney trouble and suffered a great deal from pain and weakness in my back and hips. Doan's Kidney Pills, obtained at Bard's Drug Store, cured me and I have had no return of the trouble." (Statement given in 1901).

Time Is the Test.

On Oct. 16, 1908, Mrs. Ricks said: "I still think highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, as I have had no return of my old trouble in over seven years. I gladly re-endorse this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

THE CORONER REPORTS ON THE SPENDTHRIFT'S DEATH IN CHICAGO.

THE SON OF A RAILWAY MAGNATE

After a Night of Drinking the Young Man Collapsed—A Physician Revived Him With Strychnine and He Soon Died.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Nathaniel Ford Moore, son of James Hobart Moore, the financier, died of heart disease, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury here yesterday.

Moore was found dead yesterday in a resort conducted by Victoria Shaw, 2914 Dearborn street. According to testimony given by Victoria Shaw and Pearl Moore, who was the first to find that Moore was dead, he died Sunday afternoon, but it was not until yesterday morning that the police gave out the news.

Rumors and theories that Moore died from drugs administered while in the resort were not substantiated by the evidence at the inquest.

The verdict that he died of heart disease met the unanimous approval of three physicians who conducted a post-mortem examination at Moore's home on the Lake Shore drive.

"A more thorough post-mortem examination could not have been made," said Coroner Hoffman. "It proved conclusively that Mr. Moore died of heart disease. Not the slightest trace of drugs nor poisoning could be found nor was there an external mark of violence. The examination of the internal organs showed that Mr. Moore was in poor physical condition."

Moore had long been a sufferer from heart disease, according to W. H. Mygatt, a friend, who has taken charge of the body. Dr. McKenna, who had been Moore's physician for some time, said he had treated Moore for heart disease and had administered strychnine to him.

According to the testimony of Victoria Shaw and Pearl Moore, who were released after the inquest, Moore arrived at the resort at 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning with "Big" Fitzgerald, a saloon keeper.

Fitzgerald formerly was a chauffeur and often drove Moore about the town. Moore bought wine freely. He was taken ill in the morning and attended by a Dr. Murray.

The doctor is said to have given him two injections of morphine and Moore said he was feeling better. He continued to drink heavily and went to bed. Soon afterwards he was dead

MRS. BUSCH IMPROVING

Former Pettis County Lady in a St. Louis Hospital.

A letter from Jule Busch, a well known former Lamonte citizen, who is residing at Guthrie, Ok., states that Mrs. Busch, who has been ill with a cancer in a hospital at St. Louis since November 28 last, was recently operated upon and the cancer was successfully removed by one of the most skillful surgeons of St. Louis, says the Lamonte Record.

Mrs. Busch is now getting along nicely. Her daughter, Miss Marie, is at her bedside, and her cousins, Frank B. and Ben F Meyer, formerly of Sedalia, visit her daily. The many friends of Mrs. Busch here trust that she will speedily regain her health and strength.

Turner has been selected as the proper party to drink in the life-giving ozone of the peaceful Ozarks. Carrie has agreed to furnish all the necessary equipment for a well regulated farm and has insinuated that she will do the right thing in every way. Mr. Turner, it is stated, has the offer under consideration.

Several years ago Mr. Turner was able to do Carrie a good turn, and it seems that she has never forgotten it. In addition to her farm in Arkansas, Mrs. Nation has a home in Eureka Springs, which, she says, will be one of the cleanest and best health resorts in the country in the course of a few years.

LOCAL BANK'S CHANGES

Annual Elections by Three Nationals of the City.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Sedalia National bank was held today, at which meeting the following directors were elected:

H. W. Meuschke, John W. Murphy, E. R. Blair, Dr. W. H. Evans, Dr. E. F. Yancey, Martin Renken, W. A. Lower, F. W. Hixson and Judge Henry Lamm.

Immediately after the election of a board of directors the following officers were elected:

President—H. W. Meuschke.
Vice president—Dr. W. H. Evans.
Cashier—F. W. Hixson.
Assistant cashier—W. O. Terry.

Mr. Meuschke was elected to the position of president of the institution after Dr. E. F. Yancey had positively declined to serve longer. Dr. Yancey in declining to accept re-election stated that his duties as chief surgeon for the entire M., K. & T. system made it impossible for him to fill the office, and his retirement after three years' efficient service was reluctantly received.

Mr. Hixson, who was elected cashier, succeeds E. R. Blair, whose resignation has been in the hands of the directors for some time. The latter, who is one of Missouri's most capable bankers, will devote his time to his private interests, but, like Dr. Yancey, the retiring president, will still retain his stock in the institution, as well as remain on the board of directors.

For twenty-two years Mr. Hixson was engaged in the banking business at Hannibal, and he is resognized by the leading bankers of the state as a man whose ability is of a high order. Mr. Hixson will enter upon his duties at once.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Citizens' National bank was also held today, the same board of directors as last year being re-elected. The directors will meet Saturday to elect officers.

This state of affairs has been made possible on account of the new electric light system which has just been completed. Lights are being installed in all parts of town as rapidly as possible.

HIS 111TH BIRTHDAY

Missourian Bears Distinction of Living in Three Centuries.

Liberal, Mo., Jan. 11.—With the distinction of having lived in three centuries, Henry Dorman, of Liberal, yesterday celebrated his one hundred and eleventh birthday.

Mr. Dorman is short of stature, stooped with advanced years and his face is beginning to show the ravages of time. For the last six months he has been an invalid and has lost a wonderful memory, which he retained until a few years ago.

He was born January 10, 1799, in Steuben county, N. Y. His early life was spent on a farm and when 24 years old he was married to Miss Lucinda Parker.

Mr. Dorman came to Western Missouri about forty years ago and settled in Vernon county. His wife died twenty-three years ago, and since that time he has lived with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Hattie Dorman.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The couple was married in this county on March 21, 1909, and separated on June 15, on which date the plaintiff alleges the defendant left him and has as yet failed to return to him, in spite of his repeated pleadings to do so.

W. D. O'Bannon is his attorney.

DON RINGLER SCALDED

Young Mechanic Met With Painful Injury Last Night.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Don Ringler, a well known young mechanic of this city, who recently secured employment at night at the Missouri Pacific round house, was severely scalded by escaping steam while at work shortly after the midnight hour last night.

Mr. Ringler fell into an uncovered ditch, which had been dug to pocket escaping steam from engines. Both limbs from his knees to his shoe-tops were scalded.

The M., K. & T. ambulance was summoned and the patient taken to the hospital for attention, after which he was removed to his apartments at the home of ex-Mayor John A. Collins, 710 West Seventh street, where he is resting nicely today.

WEE BIT OF VERSE

HOBO'S JEANS YIELD EPIC OF THE UNDERWORLD AFTER RAID BY POLICE.

A STRONG FEATURE OF EFFUSION

Brief Stanza, Recited Over Lonely Camp Fires of Road Knights, Furnishes a Subject for Thought to Many.

Touching in its beautiful simplicity, charming in its naive pessimism, savoring of railroad ties and nature, and coffee boiled in the once proud tomato can, is the near-poem unearthed from the pocket of a penniless hobo arrested at 4 o'clock this morning slumbering peacefully in an empty freight car on the water front, says the Seattle, Wash., Post-Intelligencer.

Perhaps it's not a new poem at all. Perhaps it has been recited thousands of times over lonely camp fires at the bottom of railroad embankments. But it's never been published, so far as anybody knows, and it's just chock full of local color. Here it is:

"He built the road—
With others of his class he built the road.
Now o'er it many a weary mile he packs his load,
Chasing a job, spurred on by hunger's goad.
He walks, and walks—and wonders
Why in hell he built the road."

In addition to the poetical hobo, forty-four other members of the fraternity were aroused from their slumbers by Patrolmen Eli Helms, A. R. Wolff and G. H. Comstock. All were flat broke, 15 cents in real money being the only claim the entire crowd had to being called financiers.

The men were of all nationalities, were very dirty and, although one of the men gave his business as that of a barber, he had evidently not practiced his profession much on his companions. When they were hailed before Judge John B. Gordon this morning a majority of them were released after a reprimand and a warning to go to work.

Business Picking Up.

Kearney, Mo., Jan. 11.—Postmaster G. W. Riddle is pretty well satisfied with things as they are, although he hopes to make them even better during the next twelve months.

The reason for Mr. Riddle's pleasant frame of mind is that the Kearney office has been promoted from the fourth class to the third class and his salary has been increased accordingly to $1,000 a year.

The receipts of the office last year were about $2,000.

THRONG THRILLED

Remarkable Exhibition of Control Over Machine—Men and Women Were in a Frenzy of Excitement.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 11.—Making a sudden and dramatic appearance while the 40,000 spectators were watching the slow flight of two dirigible balloons at Aviation park last afternoon, Louis Paulhan threw the great throng into a frenzy of enthusiasm by a spectacular flight in a Farman biplane.

It was the first day of the aviation meet, and was given over to preliminary trials and flights to give aeronauts and aviators a chance to shake down their machines.

Curtiss had given an exhibition in a new and untried machine, in which later Clifford Harmon made some short flights. Charles E. Willard in the Curtiss No. 1 had also made a successful flight, and several times Roy Knabenshue and Lincoln Beachy had ascended in two small dirigibles and maneuvered their craft, but nothing to thrill the crowd occurred until Paulhan swept into the game.

Beachey and Knabenshue were piloting their dirigibles around the course when the daring Frenchman suddenly appeared out of a gully hidden from the view of the grand stand, circled the course three times, went out across the country, came back over the grand stand, and alighted in the center of the field.

In two later flights he gave a remarkable exhibition of control over his machine, gracefully making sharp turns, now dipping almost to the ground to scatter in frightened flight a group of officials gathered on the field, again skimming the grand stand only a few feet above the heads of the spectators, ascending, descending, and, finally, approaching from the rear the tent that houses his aeroplane, just clearing the top, and alighting within 100 feet of its entrance.

Paulhan was given a demonstration such as it seldom witnessed at a public gathering. Men shouted themselves hoarse, while women applauded and waved handkerchiefs. Paulhan, elated by the furore he had created, danced gayly into his tent.

CARING FOR POOR

HOW THE UNFORTUNATES ARE BEING LOOKED AFTER AT MEXICO, MO.

NO ONE ALLOWED TO SUFFER THERE

Rented a Large House Near the Business Center, Which Answers As a Home and Hospital for the Destitute.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Mexico, Mo., Jan. 10.—There is probably as little actual suffering and want in Mexico this winter as in any city in the state. Troubles of this kind have been reduced to the minimum through the efficient work of the Associated Charities.

A few weeks ago the organization rented a large house near the business center of the town and fitted it up to care for unfortunates unable for any good reason to care of themselves.

A special feature of the home is a sick room. There is no city hospital in Mexico, so the room is used not only for charity patients, but by physicians who have cases that need special attention. The home is also provided with a reading room, club room and others for various purposes.

"Every applicant for aid at the city hall is sent here," says Superintendent Martha C. Frost. "We investigate the cases, and, if deserving, supply the applicant with employment, clothing or food. Every Monday morning we have a sale of second-hand clothing, the highest amount paid for an article being 25 cents. This sale is of great benefit to poor mothers who are unable to buy other clothing for their children.

"The county gives us $200 a year to help carry on the work. In addition to this, practically every church and fraternal organization in the city makes regular contributions, so that all charity work is done in a thorough, systematic way. The board of managers is composed of the mayor, one councilman, two representatives from each church and a representative from each lodge."

SEE BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Risked Life to Steal Money in Order to Do So.

Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—"I wanted to go to Paris to see the pretty women," was the explanation of Edmund Clare, an 18-year-old office boy, who was Saturday held in jail on the charge of stealing $400 from the office of the Insurance Company of Pennsylvania, in this city.

The boy risked being smothered in a vault to get the money. He entered the vault on Thursday and was locked in unwittingly by the treasurer of the company.

Clare carried a wrench and a screw driver, and after the employes left for the day he had little difficulty in opening the door of the vault and escaping with the money.

A detective found that the door had been opened from the inside, and Clare, who was acting suspiciously about the office, was arrested. He confessed, and when asked if he was not afraid of being smothered, said:

"I did not care very much. I took the chance."

The money was recovered from a bureau in the boy's home.

TARIFF THE ISSUE

CATTLE KINGS OF THE WEST TO DISCUSS SUBJECT AT ANNUAL MEETING.

A STATEMENT MADE BY OFFICERS

Weary of Having the East Fix Schedule of Values for the West—Unfairness of the Payne-Aldrich Measure.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 11.—Stockmen and "cattle kings" from all over the west will engage in a discussion of the tariff and other important questions during the thirteenth annual convention of the American National Live Stock association, opened today.

The cattlemen will lodge a protest against the action of congress in putting hides on the free list. On the tariff question, the officers of the association have given out the following statement:

"The result of this last tariff revision and the complete domination of the east in the fixing of the various schedules shows the vital importance of better organization among the live stock men, not only of the west, but of the entire country.

"The duties on live stock, meats and other agricultural products have in the past been almost purely nominal, as this country is a large exporter of such products. It may transpire in the not distant future that, by reason of our rapidly increasing population, the United States will be able to consume substantially all the agricultural and meat products it produces, and, when that time comes undoubtedly a demand will arise from the east to remove all these present nominal duties on agricultural and live stock products, and we must be better organized to protect our interests.

"Our live stock industry stands for a fair and impartial distribution of the burdens or favors of the tariff, and objects to the manufacturing east dictating and obtaining all they desire in the way of duties at the expense of the producers.

"It is not unlikely that the tariff may be an important issue in the next congress. At all events, this subject will come up for full consideration at our annual meeting."

A NUN TO GET $200,000

She Was the Favorite Niece of Deceased Wealthy Priest.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 12.—It is expected that the Sacred Heart convent will be the largest beneficiary in the estate of the late Michael McFaul, whose funeral was held yesterday morning at the Old Cathedral. Few priests in St. Louis have died possessed of such wealth as this modest, retiring assistant at the cathedral, whose asceticism was referred to yesterday by the preacher of the day, Rev. J. J. Head, as that of an "anchorite."

Father McFaul's father was a pork packer who made much money for his time. Fifty years ago he died, leaving his fortune to his son, and since then Father McFaul has scarcely touched it. Mostly in real estate, it has grown in value, the income piling up on the principal, until it is estimated at more than $200,000 today. His favorite niece, a nun of the Sacred Heart, Mother Angela Donnelly, will probably inherit practically all the estate, it is believed.

CROOKS CAPTURED

AN EXPLOSION AROUSED CITIZENS

Bandits Lose Their Hats in Flight From Bank and Lack of Headgear Leads to Their Downfall—Admit Guilt.

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 10.—Safe-blowers were discovered in the act of dynamiting the safe of the mercantile and banking house of Samuel Ayres at Hutchins, ten miles south of Dallas, about 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning. An explosion caused armed citizens to hurry to the place.

While they were surrounding the Ayres building two men were discovered escaping through a back door. The citizens opened fire in the darkness and the fugitives returned the shots from their pistols. As they ran they stumbled and fell, dropping their weapons and their hats.

They could not recover these and fled without them. Telephonic communication was opened with Dallas by the Hutchins citizens. Dallas police officers were put on lookout duty and about daylight three patrolmen watching near the Trinity river bridge, a mile south of the city, captured two bareheaded men hurrying towards the city along the roadbed of the Houston and Texas Central railroad.

The prisoners admitted their identity when confronted with the circumstances of the affair at Hutchins. One was identified as John O'Malley, known to the police as a grocery clerk of Dallas. The other gave the name of S. B. Greer. He was indefinite as to his place of residence, saying with indifference, they could "book him as coming from 'most anywhere.'"

The two men are locked up in cells at the city prison. No one was hit in the fight at Hutchins.

LABOR WAS IN VAIN

THAT OF "HUMAN MOLES" IN ORDER TO REACH RICH TREASURE IN NEW YORK.

NUMBER OF ATTEMPTS WERE MADE

Isaac Finkelstein Tunneled Into and Under the Earth for Thirteen Weeks Before He Was Smothered.

New York, Jan. 10.—Attempts to rob banks and pawnshops by secret underground methods as in the case of Isaac Finkelstein. who lost his life tunneling from 53 Ludlow street to the East Side branch of the Fourteenth street gank and a nearby jewelry store on Grand street, was disclosed yesterday by Inspector Jas. McCafferty, in charge of the detective bureau.

The inspector said that within a year a number of attempts had been made to enter pawnshops and jewelry stores in the heart of the business section of the city.

In every case the daring robbers progressed rapidly with their work, but when the excavations were half done and about to be snored up they were frightened away.

Inch by inch for at least thirteen weeks is the progress estimated to have been made by Isaac Finkelstein in boring a passage a little larger than a man's body thirty feet under Ludlow street.

David Canavan, a contractor, said that with a sugar dip, a screwdriver and a plasterer's smother a man, without aid, could have moled thus far into the earth, if not opposed by solid rock, in thirteen weeks, and that he could have removed the earth and carried it away in bags, as Finkelstein did, each night with little chance of detection.

"Of course, Finkelstein had none of the surveyor's instruments necessary to determine his course, and he had no knowledge of the improved methods of tunneling," said Mr. Canavan.

"He pecked and pecked at the soft clay under the street, carrying it away in scoopfuls until he reached a spot where the earth above was loose. His supports were fragile and insufficient, and it is a miracle that he was not overwhelmed before the cave-in took place.

"If he removed an inch a day he must have worked with great zeal. He had no idea of the hazard he took, and the direction of the tunnel showed that he had no conception of boring into the earth. His was a foolhardy exploit. That he kept level with his original picking was remarkable.

"I should judge from the dimensions fixed by the building inspector that the man must have expended at least three months in his labors.

"Finklestein met death before he reached probably his greatest obstacle, that of getting through the stone walls of the bank, which he was boring into the earth to rob. His was the most ridiculous attempt at tunneling which has come to the attention of excavators in recent years."

THE STEAKS AND HIDES

Of Bad-Tempered Buffalo Offered on New York Market.

New York, Jan. 10.—Buffalo meat was on sale on the markets here Saturday for the first time in many years. Twenty-eight hundred pounds, representing four bull buffaloes, were offered, and the meat brought 75 cents a pound. The hides were on sale for $1,000 each, whereas thirty years ago they could have been bought for $5 apiece.

The four bulls were shot by a western ranch owner, who has a private herd in Wyoming.

It is said that there are now less than 1,000 American bison alive, and it was only because of the unruly temper of the four that they were sacrificed.

THEY WERE LOCATED IN CHICAGO

Were Living as Father and Daughter —Each Says the Girl Was Not Wronged—She Seeks to Shield the Man.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Roberta De Janon, the missing Philadelphia heiress, 17 years of age, and Frederick Cohen, a waiter at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, who disappeared at the same time she did were arrested here late last evening in a little room at 68 West Superior street, on the North Side. They were paying $4 a week for their "apartment," and Miss De Janon had just pawned a diamond bracelet and necklace to help along their depleted finances.

A mysterious telephone "tip" to the police to keep an eye on Cohen, who was suspected by the neighbors of being a white slave trafficker, led to the arrest.

Both the girl and Cohen insist that their relations have been perfectly proper. They have been posing as "father and daughter," and the girl, who is unsophisticated in the extreme, is vehement in her declaration that Cohen has never been anything but a "father" to her.

Cohen Real Friend, She Says.

"Since my mother died," she said, "Mr. Cohen has been the only real friend I have had. He seemed to understand my lonely situation and depression better than any of my relatives, and he sympathized with me when I most needed sympathy."

Notwithstanding her defense of Cohen, who is old enough to be her grandfather, the police look upon him as an oily proposition who has taken advantage of the girl's ignorance of the world.

Placed where it would attract immediate attention in the event of their arrest was a carefully written letter, in which Cohen, noting a letter from the girl to the effect that she intended to run away and commit suicide, preached a long sermon advising her strongly against such a plan.

Then, realizing that she is in earnest, he writes that if such is her determination, he will sacrifice everything and accompany her, as she would stand no chance whatever out in the world alone. This remarkable letter bears all the earmarks of a carefully prepared defense against emergencies.

Seeks Forgiveness for Waiter.

Seated in the police station last night, the girl pleaded, above all, that there be no prosecution of Cohen, and she exhibited a letter she had written to her grandfather, in which she urged him to forgive Cohen and also to seek forgiveness for him from his deserted wife.

In this letter she announced to her grandfather that she was filled with remorse over the anxiety she had caused him and that after mailing the letter she intended to jump into the lake.

Miss De Janon cheerfully described their wanderings since they left Philadelphia, how they went to Montreal, and intended embarking for England, but abandoned that trip because the steamer people refused to carry her pet terrier, Tootsie. They then drifted around Canada and eventually landed in Chicago.

Feared Suicide, He Says.

Cohen, in his own behalf, permits the girl to shoulder all the responsibility for the escapade. He says he really believed she would commit suicide, and that he considered it his duty to accompany her until she had purged her mind of that intention, meanwhile guarding her closely against any danger.

His statements, however, are confusing, and the police do not take much stock in his professions of innocence. That he has the girl completely infatuated, is evident beyond question.

"I do not love Fred," she said, "and at no time did I ever think of marrying him, but he was good to me, and I valued him as the best friend I had. So after the death of mother and grandmother, and when I learned I was to be packed off to school, I was so lonesome. Grandfather was good to me and so was father, but I had no one to really comfort me, for they both insisted that I must go to school.

"I had known Fred since last October. He waited on me in our private dining room at the Bellevue-Stratford and he always was kind to me. So one day I told him all about it.

Planned Trip to London.

"We slipped out of the hotel quietly and went to New York. From there we went to Montreal, where we stayed two days, and then we went to St. Johns, planning to go to London. I had visited England two years ago, and intended to remain there until I was 21 years of age.

"Well, we were compelled to abandon our plans for an European trip, for when we boarded the Corsican we were promptly informed that Tootsie, my dog, could not accompany us.

"We left the steamer at Halifax and planned to come to Chicago. We first went to Boston, staying there over night. The following day we came on here, arriving last Thursday morning."

Couple Disappeared December 29.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 11.—Roberta De Janon, the sole heiress of her grandfather. Robert Buist, a millionaire seed dealer of this city, disappeared from the Bellevue-Stratford hotel here December 20, a few days before her seventeenth birthday.

Her father, Ferdinand De Janon, a New York stock broker, received several letters from her on that day, in which she announced that she was going to commit suicide by drowning because she could not bear to live after the death of her mother.

The wife of Frederic Cohen, a waiter, 46 years old, who had served Miss De Janon's meals at a hotel, reported her husband was also missing, and produced a letter of an affectionate nature that she alleged Miss De Janon sent him. The suicide theory was then abandoned and search was instituted for the missing couple.

Defends Her Partner in Flight.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 11.—Roberta De Janon, the Philadelphia heiress, who was arrested here yesterday with Frederick Cohen, the waiter, said today that if court proceedings are begun against Cohen she will be his chief defender. She was emphatic in her declarations that the elopement was all her fault. It is expected that the pair will be taken back tomorrow.

Will Prosecute the Waiter.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 11.—Robert Buist, grandfather of Roberta De Janon, said today:

"I am perfectly delighted to get my little girl back."

Regarding probable action as to the prosecution of Cohen, Buist referred reporters to his counsel, Henry F. Walton.

"You can rest assured that a charge will be made against Cohen, and one that will lie," said the latter, adding that he will have a conference with the district attorney this afternoon.

MAN KILLED WIFE

DAUGHTER OF MISSOURI LUNATIC PROBABLY FATALLY INJURED.

THREE OFFICERS ARE HELD AT BAY

Authorities Say Maniac Escaped From Nevada Asylum, Where He Was a Patient for Dethronement of His Reason.

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 11.—William Christman, a farmer, who was recently discharged from the state insane asylum at Nevada as cured, shot and killed his wife and probably fatally wounded his 10-year-old daughter at their home, six miles west of Springfield, last afternoon.

Christman emptied the contents of one barrel of a shotgun into his wife's left side and head, and the other he discharged at his little daughter.

Mother and daughter were in the bedroom of their home. Neighbors learned of the tragedy and informed the sheriff.

A posse of officers hurried to the Christman home, but Christman was missing. He was found prowling through a clump of timber near his home. He threatened the officers and they feared to approach him.

Christman then started for Springfield and walked the entire distance Three deputy sheriffs followed closely behind.

When Christman reached Walnut and South Jefferson streets, in the heart of the city, one of the officers halted him and engaged him in conversation. The other two officers then overpowered him, relieved him of the weapon he was carrying and hurried him to the county jail in a patrol wagon.

Christman, in his insane mutterings, declared that a strange man killed his wife and child. He said that he pursued the murderer into the woods, where he lost trace of him

Christman was covered with mud from his head to his feet and his clothing was in rags. Although relatives say Christman was discharged from the asylum as cured, the officers here say he escaped from the Nevada asylum.

INSURGENTS ISSUE DEFI

Decline to Be Read Out of Party—Will Fight to a Finish.

Washington, Jan. 11.—A defiant statement, which stamps the attempt to read them out of the republican pary as "unfair and malicious" and defines Speaker Cannon's administration in the house of representatives the "climax of autocratic control," was issued last night after a meeting of the insurgent republican members of the house.

The members decline to be put out of the republican party by the regulars and announce their intent to carry on to a finish, the figat against the speaker and the organization. The statement follows:

"In the effort to becicud the real issue, an unfair and malicious attempt is being made to represent us as opposed to President Taft's administration and policies. There is not even a semblance of truth in this accusation. Without exception we are firm supporters of republican doctrines and President Taft's administration.

"We are banded together for a single purpose and no other. Our sole aim as a body is to restore to the house of representatives complete power of legislation in accordance with the will of a majority of its members.

"We are striving to destroy the system of autocratic control which has reached its climax under the present speaker."

LAST DAY FOR CLAIMS

Missouri Volunteers in Spanish-American War.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 10.—This is the last day that claims may be presented by Missouri volunteers in the Spanish-American war for back pay. For some time efforts have been made by state authorities to collect something like $150,000 which the Missouri boys had coming to them.

Nearly all of the claims have been presented and action has been taken on many of them. All claims not presented by today will be valueless, as the time limit has expired.

The money, it is stated, has been due the six regiments that answered the government's call for several years and represents time that was lost to them after they had been called and before they enlisted in the army. Officers of the various regiments have investigated the various accounts and have had them properly made out.

THREE HURT; TWO OTHERS MAY DIE

Atlanta, Ga., Business Man Is Caught in Place Known as "Death Trap" Because of Many Mishaps There.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 11.—Frank and Harold George, brothers, and their friend, W. R. Garner, three young men of Atlanta, were killed late last afternoon when a touring car in which they were speeding out Peach tree road, was hit by a trolley car.

W. R. George, father of the George boys, and F. S. Gable, who were also in the auto, were seriously injured, and may not recover. Henry Johnson, motorman, was badly hurt, but not seriously injured.

W. R. George, who is a wealthy business man, was testing a heavy machine, and asked his two sons and Garner and Gable to go with him.

He was at the wheel and was driving the auto rapidly. Suddenly he saw another auto dash around a curve.

To avoid collision with the oncoming auto he turned his own machine across the street car track, just in time for it to be hit by the fast-moving trolley.

The George machine was torn to pieces and pieces of it were thrown a hundred feet away. The two George boys and Garner were badly mangled and dead when found.

The elder George and Gable were thrown high into the air and were unconscious when picked up.

The accident occurred at a place on Peachtree road which has come to be known as "death trap," because of the number of auto accidents.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 12.—Francis J. Heney, in opening the prosecution of Binger Herman, former United States land commissioner, said the government expects to prove that in 1901 timber speculators took advantage of the creation of forest reserves by securing advance information of what school lands would be included in the reserves and by procuring a large number of persons to apply for the school lands lying within the reserve and convey them to the speculators for small sums, and that Herman was in the conspiracy.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE

WARD KELLERMAN, PROMINENT FARMER, IS DEFENDANT IN THE CASE.

CHARGES GENERAL INDIGNITIES

The Plaintiff Says Her Husband Is Worth $25,000, and She Asks That She Be Given a Good Portion of This Sum.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Ward Kellerman, a wealthy farmer and stockman and prominent republican, living near Beaman, was made the defendant in a suit for divorce instituted by his wife, Mrs. Rose Gertrude Kellerman, in the Pettis county circuit court today.

The plaintiff has retained Hon. W. D. Steele to secure the decree, and through her counsel alleges that the defendant's conduct towards her has been utterly unbearable.

According to the petition, Mr. and Mrs. Kellerman were united in marriage in Sedalia on June 21, 1904. They lived together until yesterday.

Among the allegations of plaintiff are these:

That for the past three years defendant has been very quarrelsome towards the plaintiff, and has continually and constantly said mean and insulting things to her and has treated her with the utmost contempt.

That for the past three years plaintiff's health has been bad, on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and that the defendant's conduct has become utterly unbearable and intolerable.

Plaintiff further states that she has begged and pleaded with the defendant to treat her kindly, but that the defendant has wholly failed to change his conduct in the least.

Plaintiff also states that the defendant is possessed of $25,000 personal property and real estate, and besides a decree of divorce and the restoration of her maiden name, Rose Gertrude Logan, she asks for $10,000 permanent alimony, suit money, attorney fees and temporary alimony pendente lite.

C. C. Kelly and W. W. Blain have been retained to look after the defendant's interests.

LOVE BUG'S STING

ALLEGED SEDALIAN MAKES A SENSATION AT CHILLICOTHE, MISSOURI.

FORBIDDEN IN GIRL'S PRESENCE

He Threatened Suicide, but Officers Take Charge of Him and He Is Released on a Promise to Leave the City.

The city directory of Sedalia does not cohtain the name of Arthur Neat, nor have reporters of the Democrat-Sentinel been able to identify him, but the Chillicothe Constitution of Monday afternoon has the following in regard to him:

A young man giving his name as Arthur Neat, and his home as Sedalia, was taken in charge by Chief Dorney and Sheriff White Sunday evening and booked at police headquarters for investigation.

Neat has been in Chillicothe for two weeks. He has been paying court to a young lady, the daughter of a Sampsel township farmer, while she was keeping house for her brother, who is a resident near the South Missouri city. The young lady returned to Chillicothe before Christmas. Neat followed and since being here he has made a number of trips to the young lady's home.

The parents of the girl objected to Neat's attention to their daughter and forbade him seeing her. Friday the girl was in the city shopping and the Sedalia man met her in a dry goods store and after having a long conversation with her, attempted to get her to stay in town with a relative Friday night and let him call on her. The girl's mother appeared on the scene at that time and with her daughter, departed for their home, leaving the lover behind.

Sunday Neat telephoned the young lady, telling her he was coming to her home and if she did not marry him he would kill himself. The girl immediately conveyed the news to her father, and he promptly notified the officers, who found Neat in a hotel and arrested him.

Monday morning he was questioned in police court and after promising the officers he would return to his home and not bother the young lady any more, he was released.

COL. WISKER DEAD

FORMER PUBLISHER OF SENTINEL DIED AT HOME OF SON IN CALIFORNIA.

HE HAD BEEN TUTOR TO ROYALTY

Survived by His Widow, Two Sons and Two Daughters—He Engaged in Truck Raising After Quitting the Newspaper.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Col. Van B. Wisker, a native of New York state, and while a resident of Sedalia one of the city's most influential and active business men, died from general debility at the home of his son, Aubrey L. Wisker, at Auburn, Cal., last Friday.

The news of Mr. Wisker's death did not reach here until today, however.

The deceased was a former newspaper man, at one time being the owner of the old Sedalia Sentinel. He disposed of that publication, after being connected with it for several years, and purchased the farm now owned by Col. H. C. Demuth, which he sold to the present owner shortly before leaving Sedalia.

Col. Wisker was about 74 years of age and was a prominent church and temperance worker. He was an active member of the Congregational church, the pulpits of which denomination he frequently filled with vim and enthusiasm.

He had traveled extensively, both at home and abroad and acquired his title of colonel in the Franco-Prussian war. Later he was a tutor to the children of royalty abroad.

Before coming to Sedalia, Col. Wisker resided in St. Louis, and was recognized as one of the prominent citizens of the Mound City.

Some three years ago impaired health began to tell on Col. Wisker, and he disposed of his farm and went to California, where he had made his home since.

He leaves a widow and two sons, Aubrey L., of California, and Lay, of Pettis county, and two daughters, who live in St. Louis county.

Col. Wisker's death will be learned of with regret by every Sedalian, for he was an honest, upright, courtly gentleman in all that the term implies.

Edwin Greek, employed in the wood department at the Southern railroad shops at Princeton, Ind., was formally declared a member of the "Gimlet club" late Saturday when an immense power augur drilled downward, barely avoiding penetrating his head, bored a deep flesh wound down the side of his neck, shoulder and body, and almost twisted his clothing off.

His life was probably saved by the quick action of a fellow workman in shutting off the power. Greek will recover.

OUGHT TO BE „BUMPED"

For Naming Daughters "Nothing" and "Something."

Mexico, Mo., Jan. 10.—Nothing Tuttle and Something Tuttle are now Trix and Kitty Tuttle, respectively. They have changed their names. The young women are daughters of T. T. Tuttle, a retired farmer.

Tuttle's first child, a girl, was born in 1881, which was a dry year. In order to commemorate the year he named her Eighty-one. She is now the wife of Rufus Jackson.

The second child, a boy, brought about a disagreement between Tuttle and his wife as to name, so they compromised by calling him "It" Tuttle.

The third child, a girl, was named "Nothing," and the strange names were carried out in the naming of the youngest. She became "Something."

PASTOR'S RED POSTERS

Rev. Wilfley Announces Sermon in Theatrical Style.

St. Louis, Jan. 10.—When St. Louisans came down town Saturday they saw in scores of show windows display cards and bills bearing the picture of the Rev. Earle Wilfley, pastor of the First Christian church, announcing in red ink that the pastor would lecture on the drama at his church Saturday.

The display cards were exactly similar in every respect to those used by theatrical managers to advertise their shows.

In many windows the cards bearing the minister's picture were seen side by side with similar cards announcing attractions for this week at the theaters.

The cards announced the Rev. Wilfley's Sunday subject as "A Common Sense View of the Drama." The Rev. Wilfley at one time was an actor and played with Booth and Barrett.

Rev. Wilfley is a native of Pettis county, he having been born in the Pinhook neighborhood.

INJUREDCOASTERS

FRANCIS McGINLEY WILL REMAIN AT THE CAPITAL SEVERAL DAYS.

CHARLEY M'ENIRY DOING NICELY

John Brandt, Roadmaster for the Missouri Pacific, Says the Bobsled Was Going Fully 80 Miles An Hour at Time.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGinley returned last night at 6:48 o'clock from Jefferson City, where they left their son, Francis, the victim of a coasting accident Sunday, at St. Mary's hospital, where he will remain for several days, or possibly weeks.

Francis was resting comfortably when Mr. and Mrs. McGinley took their departure from the capital, and Dr. Enloe, the attending physician, predicted that as he was young and in good physical condition he would soon recover.

Col. Charles McEniry returned on the same train, bringing with him his son, Charlie, another of the victims, who was carried by his father and J. C. Connor from the train to a carriage in waiting. He was taken to his home on West Fourth street, and today is reported as resting nicely, but it will be several days before he will be able to resume his duties at the M., K. & T. offices. Dr. M. T. Collins is attending him.

The other Sedalians who were in the accident are all able to be up and around as usual, but are a little sore and stiff from their shaking up.

John Brandt, of Jefferson City, roadmaster for the Missouri Pacific, stated that the bobsled on which the six Sedalians were riding when the accident occurred was going at a speed of eighty miles an hour when it overturned, and he considers it a miracle that some one was not killed.

Writing of the Sedalians who were hurt and returned home Sunday night, the Jefferson City Post of Monday afternoon said:

"Before leaving for their homes last night the above named passed the following resolution:

"Whereas, we have had our first experience in coasting and have found it a serious and dangerous proposition; therefore, be it

"Resolved, that in future we will never go coasting in Jefferson City or any other place again; and be it further

"Resolved, that we are thankful we were not killed.—Signed: Sedalia Coasting Committee."

THE DR. CASTO MEDICAL COMPANY

SEDALIA'S LEADING SPECIALIST

THE PHENOMENAL SUCCESS OF OUR MODERN AMERICANIZED EUROPEAN METHOD OF PAINLESS, BLOODLESS SURGERY TREATMENT FOR FEMALE DISEASES HAS GAINED A WIDE REPUTATION. PATIENTS COME FROM OTHER STATES TO SEEK OUR AID, BUT OUR BEST FRIENDS ARE THOSE WE CURE AT HOME. READ THE FOLLOWING MOST EXTRAORDINARY HOME TESTIMONIAL:

TUMOR CURED WITHOUT KNIFE

MR. AND MRS. LEE, 916 WEST FIFTH STREET, SEDALIA, MO.

Mrs. Lee, residing at 916 West Fifth street, is a very estimable and highly respected lady, who has a host of friends that are much surprised and greatly delighted at the remarkable and most extraordinary cure she has received while taking a course of our famous painless, bloodless surgery treatment for female disease. Mrs. Lee is widely known, having resided in this city for over thirty years, and we take pride in our great achievement in restoring her to health. Our cure should challenge the admiration of the medical world, for the like was never accomplished before, but by our new discovery, we were able to absorb a tumor as large as a turkey egg attached to the womb, without pain, operation or the use of the knife. Mrs. Lee is a good and noble woman and fearlessly comes forward and proclaims her affliction, telling what has been done for her, all for the benefit of her suffering sisters.

It has now been over a year since Mrs. Lee was cured by Dr. Casto and during that time she has had unusually good health. Call on her, write her or 'phone to her, Bell 'phone 1946. She will be glad to tell you about her case.

Dr. Casto, Chief Physician of the Dr. Casto Medical Co.

I know it is a delicate subject for a lady to express her troubles to the public, especially for one who has suffered as I have, but I feel so deeply indebted to you and so grateful for the wonderful cure you have performed that I feel it my duty not only to you but to all suffering sisters that I should do all I can to make known what you have done for me. Some two years ago I began to have severe flooding spells and nothing I could do gave me any permanent relief. I consulted the best physicians here and finally sent for a specialist from Kansas City, who examined me and told me I had a severe case of Fibroid Tumor of the Uterus. I was treated at home for a number of months and afterwards went to Kansas City, and was treated there for some time by this specialist, but I gradually grew worse and was told that I would have to submit to an operation and advised me to go to a hospital. I came home and had lost hope, as I was so weak that I could do nothing, but as a last resort I consulted you, and when you told me you could cure me without an operation or the use of a knife, I was so impressed with your assurances that I immediately began treatment, and I am certainly overjoyed and more than thankful, for you have done all you said you could and my tumor has entirely disappeared. I now feel like a new person. It will always be a pleasure to me to answer all inquiries and correspondence from all suffering sisters.

Yours most gratefully,

MRS. ZORA M. LEE.

Weak Women—Women's Department

LADY ATTENDANT

We pride ourselves on our great achievement in restoring the gentler sex to health, strength and beauty; a clear, rosy complexion denotes perfect health. It is the health of the wife, the mother and daughter that mars or makes the happiness of home life. Many suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, well knowing they need medical attention.

THE CAUSE is readily traceable to some derangement of the female organs, chief of which are a depression of spirits, melancholy, a reluctance to perform cheerfully the daily duties, backache, dragging sensation, unnatural discharges, irregularities, pain in the back, sides, breast, neck or head, nervousness bloating and sleepless nights, discoloration around the eyes, liver spots, blotches, muddy complexion. One or all of these symptoms are but timely warnings and if unheeded a life of suffering with serious complications is the inevitable result. To all such sufferers we extend a helping hand. Our modern method of examination and manner of procedure is without exposure; our consultation free; our special home treatment for ladies works the most happy results, put up in mailable form for those who can not call.

THE CRITICAL PERIOD OF WOMAN'S LIFE—The most dangerous and critical period of a woman's existence is during change of life, and if you have been a chronic sufferer, beware, cancer of the breast or womb, ovarian tumors, polipi ulcerations, etc., all stand ready to wreck your hopes of a ripe old age; and to those of you who have already encountered these terrible wreckers of happy homes, we bid you hope, for it is on these malignant and deep-seated diseases that we have concentrated all our energies for years and have so perfected our methods that we cure absolutely and permanently without operation or the use of the knife, advanced cases of cancer, ovarian fibroid and uterine tumors, together with all other complications arising therefrom by our modern Americanized European method of Painless, Bloodless Surgery Treatment for Female Diseases. Our sanitarium connection enables us to accept cases that need constant attention and those who are unable to come to our offices regularly. If you can not call, write for further information.

To All Who Suffer

Come to our offices and we will make a thorough, searching and scientific examination of your case Free of Charge, and if we find that your condition will yield to the influence of our advanced methods, then we will take your case.

6 SEDALIANS HURT

WERE IN A BOBSLED ACCIDENT AT JEFFERSON CITY SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

FRANCIS M'GINLEY'S LEG BROKEN

Will Hurley, Charlie McEniry, Will McCabe, Cornelius Quinn, Jerome Vitt and Leo Kipping Were Slightly Hurt.

(From Monday's Daily)

Francis J. McGinley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGinley, sustained a fracture of the left leg and was otherwise painfully injured, and six other young men of Sedalia were more or less seriously injured at Jefferson City Sunday, at 4:15 p. m., when a bobsled on which they were coasting swerved and was overturned, throwing the occupants into a trash pile at the bottom of a precipice fifteen feet below.

The injured are:

Francis McGinley, left leg fractured above the knee and painful lacerations and bruises about his body.

Leo Kipping, deep cut on the chin and a painful injury on his leg.

Jerome Vitt, hip painfully injured and back sprained.

Will McCabe, left ankle badly sprained.

William Hurley, left ankle sprained, cut above left knee and bruises on his body. He was treated here by Dr. M. T. Collins.

Cornelius Quinn, bruised about body.

Charles McEniry, sprain of knee and bruised generally.

Young McGinley was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where the fracture was reduced and his other wounds dressed. The others also had their wounds treated there, but all were able to leave with the exception of young McEniry, who will return home tonight.

Messrs. Kipping, Vitt, Hurley and Quinn returned home early this morning, while McCabe came in at 6:48 last evening. He was treated by Dr. K. R. Barnum.

The victims comprised a portion of a delegation of members of Sedalia council No. 831, Knights of Columbus, who went to Jefferson City yesterday forenoon to attend the class initiation there during the afternoon.

They remained away from the lodge hall until after the conferring of the first two degrees. After the dinner hour the young men were attracted to West High street, near the government building, by noticing a number of Jefferson City people enjoying themselves coasting on a bobsled.

The Sedalians took a fancy to the sport, and decided to participate. The seven, with a Jefferson City youth named Pace as a guide, boarded the sled. At the given signal they started on their unfortunate ride.

The hill extends a distance of four blocks, then makes a slight turn to the south, leading to another quarter of a mile stretch. The coasters were approaching the turn preparing to enjoy the full ride when Pace, who was doing the "steering" act, lost control of the "bob" on account of the sled being too heavily laden.

Suddenly, while speeding forty miles an hour, the sled was overturned. The occupants were thrown headlong from the sled into a pile of trash and rubbish fifteen feet below.

Young McGinley and McEniry were the only victims who were unable to walk.

Witnesses to the accident pronounce it a miracle that all were not more seriously injured. Frequently a bobsled of the style on which the Sedalians were coasting, goes sixty miles an hour.

The ditch into which the coasters were thrown is filled with empty cans, broken crockery and other debris.

Mr. and Mrs. McGinley, parents of one of the victims, also Charles McEniry, father of another of the victims, went to Jefferson City this morning to ascertain the exact extent of the injuries of their respective sons.

DOGS ON THE TRAIL

OF A BRUTE WHO ASSAULTED A 17-YEAR-OLD GIRL AT ALLENDALE, ILL.

CONDITION IS QUITE CRITICAL

The Sheriff Swore in a Score of Deputies and Succeeded in Quelling a Mob That Was Forming in Neighborhood.

Hazleton, Ind., Jan. 10.—Arrests of a sensational nature will be made today at Allendale, Ill., by Sheriff Moore, of Wabash county, as the result of a brutal attack made on Miss Agnes Moore Friday night.

She was seized on the street, slugged and gagged and dragged down an alley and assaulted. She was unconscious when found an hour later and remained so until Saturday afternoon.

She told her story of the crime to the sheriff only. The girl is in a critical condition. She is 17 years old and one of the most popular and handsome girls in Allendale.

Early Saturday morning the Hell Neck bloodhounds were called to the scene. They went over a trail five times that led from the scene of the assault to a point one mile from the town, thence back to the town by a circuitous route and leading to the same house each time.

Sheriff Moore swore in a score of deputies and succeeded in quelling a mob which was forming after the bloodhounds had done their work. The man the girl quite positively named as her assailant lived at the home the dogs stopped at the end of their trail.

SHOT AT A COAL THIEF

Or, Rather, in Direction Man Was Supposed to Have Gone.

(From Monday's Daily)

Four mysterious shots were heard at 9 o'clock last night in the 800 block on East Fourth street.

The people were excited, and on investigating learned that W. W. Baldwin, the railway brakeman, had apprehended a coal thief.

Mr. Baldwin had just left his house to go to the coal shed to get some fuel, when a man ran from the shed. "Bill" hurried back to the house and secured a gun.

Whether or not he saw the man no one seems to know; anyhow, he fired four shots.

Investigation in the locality today failed to find any dead body, or even any blood, and the supposition is that the man escaped injury.

THE PRICE OF BUTTER

Women Are Combining to Keep It From Going Higher.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 10.—Efforts are being made to interest the Norwood Federation of Women's Clubs in a movement started by the North Hyde Park Colony Mothers' club to secure a reduction in the price of butter.

According to the plan proposed by the club women of Norwood house wives are requested to pay no more than 35 cents per pound for butter, which is expected to go as high as 50 cents in January.

Should this feminine combine be productive of results as regards butter prices, more strenuous efforts than ever will be made to prevent prices of other necessaries soaring to unrasonable heights.

UNITED WITH CHURCH

Broadway Presbyterian Gains 45 Since Last Communion.

The communion at the Broadway Presbyterian church yesterday was probably the largest in the history of the church. Every seat was taken and chairs were used in the aisles.

The pastor announced the names of forty-five who had been received into the church since the last quarterly communion. This is the largest accession the church has ever had at any one time.

The whole day was a happy one for pastor and people. There were 230 in Sunday school. The business men's Bible class had an attendance of eighteen, and is growing each Sabbath. A permanent class organization is to be effected tonight at the office of Dr. J. E. Cannaday, when a constitution will be adopted, officers elected and a social session enjoyed.

JAIL FOR 332 DAYS

BERT VALLANDINGHAM, WHO SHOWED OBSCENE PICTURES AT JOPLIN TO GIRLS.

HE DOES NOT KNOW WHY HE DID IT

Insurance Agent Pleaded Guilty in Police Court and Was Given Maximum Punishment by Man on the Bench.

Joplin, Mo., Jan. 10.—Bert Vallandingham, insurance agent, must spend 332 days in the city jail for showing obscene photographs and letters to young girls in Joplin.

Making no defense other than he "didn't know why he did it," he pleaded guilty in police court Saturday on two counts to distributing improper literature and was fined $100 and sentenced to sixty days on each count, a total of $200 fine and 120 days in jail.

Unable to pay the fine, he must serve 332 days. The sentence was the maximum under the city ordinances.

Vallandingham was arrested Thursday on complaint of Mrs. O. M. Odell, whose daughter, Martha, told of two encounters with a strange man who dropped a photograph before her on the sidewalk and then claimed it after she picked it up.

The matter was reported to the police, but Vallandingham was not captured until Thrusday afternoon, when Miss Odell pointed him out to her mother, as they passed the corner of First and Pearl streets on a Smelter Hill car. The police were notified immediately and Vallandingham was arrested there.

After the arrest, complaint was made by William Houk, president of the Conqueror Trust company, whose daughter, Helen, 14 years old, was given a letter by Vallandingham two months ago, as she was playing in their yard. Miss Houk, on Friday, positively identified Vallandingham, who acknowledged he had thrown the letter to her.

A number of prominent men and women were in police court Saturday when the case was called.

Public interest in the case was evidenced by vigorous preparations for prosecution had Vallandingham demanded a trial.

READING OF BOOKS

A GREAT SERMON AT THE FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

REV. GRANT A. ROBBINS IN PULPIT

Hearers Warned Not to Be Too Democratic in Their Reading—A Synopsis of the Splendid Discourse.

(From Monday's Daily)

The Rev. Grant A. Robbins, the popular pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, who is preaching to large audiences each Sabbath, had a house filled with people Sunday night, when he preached his annual sermon on "Books and Reading."

A synopsis of the divine's remarks does not do him justice, but it will no doubt be perused with interest by Democrat-Sentinel readers. Mr. Robbins took for his text a clause in the thirteenth verse of the fourth chapter of First Timothy, "Give attention to reading." He said by way of introduction that there were many things of great moment that took place during the fifteenth century, such as the birth of Michael Angelo, Martin Luther, Savonarola and Christopher Columbus. There was the discovery of America, the doubling of the Cape of Good Hope, and the observations and discoveries of Copernicus. But that which was to do more to bring about the democracy of man, more perhaps than any one thing, was the invention of the art of printing by Guttenberg. It was the beginning of the end of the tyranny of the few over the many. It made possible the exhaltation of the common man. The accomplishments of the nineteenth century were impossible but for the work of the fifteenth century. The speaker had three divisions to the sermon.

Give Attention to Reading.

First, the statement of the text, "Give attention to reading." He showed the neglect of the multitude to give such attention. Opened up before them the possibilities of the spare time that might be spent in reading. Showed how great men regarded the importance of founding libraries. It was worth consideration when men of tremendous business ability were putting millions into the libraries. He showed the chance the ordinary man has to fit himself for larger usefulness. The chance to spend the time which most men spend in mere entertainment, for the purpose of increasing the value of his life. Showed the foolish notions that some had that certain self-made men had accomplished their work without study. That these very men had worked all the harder over their books, because they had neglected or had not had the advantage of the school.

Matter of Reading.

Mr. Robbins took for his next point this.

Second, give attention to the matter of reading. He told of the temptation to spend time in going into details over the crimes which are found so frequently in the great dailies. He warned the people against the possibility of too much magazine reading. He gave as his reason that only a fraction of the reading matter of the current periodicals ever lived beyond the time in which it was written. He showed that there was a general tendency toward the story. He did not warn against the story, except that there were two things to be considered. First, the amount of time that could be given to the story when there were so many other fields of investigation that are of more importance. And second, that one should give attention to the character of the fiction he reads.

He showed that much of the fiction gives a false conception of life. He warned the audience against their being tied up to one or two authors. That the ordinary person could not afford to read all that Dickens wrote, but find out what the author's best book was and read that. Generally that best book was made to float the rest of his books.

He named among the authors one should not neglect, Hawthorne, Thackery, George Eliot, Scott and Dickens. The speaker said these authors' works would live when the modern novel would be forgotten. He urged upon a knowledge of history, upon the study of biography, upon the study of the great essayists, giving their names, and poetry. But that they should under no conditions omit the great book of all literature, the embodyment of the Hebrew literature, the Bible. He showed how much that various authors owed to this one book. That to be informed in this was to be elevated above the plain of ignorance.

Manner of Reading.

The speaker said again:

Third, that they should give attention to the manner of reading. He showed how the mere devouring of one book after another was of no value. That if the book did not draw out the very best that was in the reader, then the book could be of little permanent value. He urged them to think while they read. That Emerson said that the hardest thing for man to do was to think. That one

CRAZY MAN'S DEED

TEXAS FARMER KILLED WIFE, SON AND DAUGHTER—THEN ENDED OWN LIFE.

ALSO WOUNDS 20 YEAR-OLD NIECE

Hatchet Was the Weapon Used—Was Successful in Agriculture, but Had Been in Poor Health for Some Time Past.

Ballinger, Texas, Jan. 10.—F. B. Kimbler, living in the northern part of this county, killed his wife, his 6-year-old son and 3-year-old daughter, seriously wounded his niece, aged 20, and ended his own life by cutting his throat yesterday.

Kimbler had been in bad health, but got up at the usual time and was assisting his wife in making fires.

He stepped out and secured a hatchet, ostensibly to cut kindling, and returning to the room where his wife was starting the fire with the hatchet in his hands, said:

"Wife, we have all got to go," and killed her. Going over to the bed, where the children were still aslep, he attackd them also.

Then he entered his niece's room and struck her. By this time a nephew of Kimbler was aroused and he and the wounded young woman made their escape.

Returning to the room where his wife lay unconscious on the floor, Kimbler used a pocket knife to end his own life.

Mrs. Kimbler and the baby lived for five or six hours, but the 6-year-old boy was instantly killed. The young lady's recovery is doubtful.

Kimbler was a successful farmer, and a county officer in the Farmers' Union.

RESPONSES ARE MANY

Offers of Aid for the Poor Coming in Very Rapidly.

(From Monday's Daily.)

There have been many generous responses to the recent appeal published by the Democrat-Sentinel for aid for the suffering poor. Names of those needing assistance and names of those willing and anxious to take a part in the humanitarian work have been received and the two brought together, with the result that relief has been prompt and generous.

In addition, quite a good amount of cash has been left at this office, and this will be used to alleviate distress wherever found.

The many who have volunteered in the cause will do everything possible to see that no person in Sedalia goes hungry or lacks other comforts, and to the end that no cases are overlooked, it is again requested that those people knowing of distress promptly notify the Democrat-Sentinel.

Let it be the city's boast that it cares for is unfortunates.

TO BAR EUCHRE GAMES

Police Ordered to Raid All Such Public Contests.

St. Louis, Jan. 10.—President Laird, of the St. Louis police board, which last Friday night approved of Police Chief Creecy's order to the police to raid public euchre games, announced Saturday that a test case would be made, claiming games to be a violation of the anti-gambling law.

Rev. S. U. Wainwright, presiding elder of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, Saturday charged that women church members here have been violating the moral law by participating in public euchre parties for charity.

Archbishop Glennon, Catholic, Saturday said he did not expect to address priests about this matter, although Chief Creecy's order may affect euchre games held for church benefits.

The police explain that women's craze for playing euchre for china and other prizes, in halls hired by promoters for that purpose, had spread throughout St. Louis.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—eases blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

ROSS RAYMOND, CONVICT AND SOLDIER OF FORTUNE, WHO DIED IN NEVADA.

WROTE FOR CHICAGO PAPER IN 1876

Then He Went Abroad, and Schemes He Worked Were Numerous, but Resulted in His Being Sent to Prison.

International News Service.

London, Jan. 8.—The death of Ross Raymond, convict, soldier of fortune and newspaper man, in Nevada, a short time ago, recalls the thrilling incidents of the daring impostures perpetrated by this adventurer, who was well known on both continents.

Raymond was employed in 1876 as a reporter on a Chicago paper. He was a handsome young man, very intelligent, and did his work in a satisfactory way for a few months. Then he resigned and disappeared. At the moment his salary account was somewhat overdrawn.

On one occasion he appeared in Birmingham, called on Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, and announced himself as an orchid farmer of New Jersey. Then he went to Stratford-on-Avon, to which city Mr. George W. Childs, the American philanthropist, had given a public fountain. There he announced himself as a nephew of Mr. Childs, and after inspecting the fountain with great care passed a number of bogus checks and obtained several hundred pounds.

Subsequently he appeared in Paris, called at the Hotel Bristol, and described himself as the courier of the khedive of Egypt, who was to arrive that evening. He took an expensive suite, told the manager that it was the khedive's birthday and that he desired to arrange a dinner in his highness' honor.

Elaborate preparations for a dinner of twenty-four covers were made. Finally Raymond announced that on the khedive's birthday it was customary for each member of his suite to make him a small gift of jewelry, and asked the manager to send for an assortment of articles appropriate to the occasion.

Jewels of considerable value were brought to his room. He selected a number and asked that they might be deposited in the hotel safe. When he established confidence he requested that the jewels be sent to his room. This having been done, he gathered them together, walked out of the hotel and took a train for England. The jewels were valued at 3,000 pounds.

He appeared in Milwaukee, Wis., and described himself as a colonel in the British army, and acted the part to perfection. He was taken into a leading club and hotel for a week. Then it was discovered he had secured funds from almost all his newly made acquaintances on forged checks. He was arrested and incarcerated for a month.

A year later he turned up in New York and called upon the president of a university, pretending to be a professor of English literature from Oxford university. After obtaining money he called upon the president of one of the leading banks, impersonated a partner in a London banking house, talked most intelligently upon economics and secured more cash. As a result of his adventure he was taken into custody.

He was convicted and imprisoned for another term, during which he served in most extraordinary fashion as the editor of the prison newspaper, writing editorials of astonishing worth. After he was liberated his health broke down, and he was finally sent to Nevada, where he died.

HOW'S YOUR COAL PILE?

Here's a Missouri Man Considerably Out of the Ordinary.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 8.—How is your coal supply If it is a little short these nipping cold nights just grab a sack and hike down to J. E. Boggs' coal house and help yourself. You needn't be quiet or careful about it, because Mr. Boggs won't care at all if you really need the fuel. This is the way he feels about it.

"You see," he says, "I have a house full of coal, plenty to eat and wear and a good job. I can earn money to buy more coal and maybe the fellow who takes my coal can't. He may need the coal worse than I do, so when I hear some one in my coal house, as I have several times lately, I just turn over in bed and go to sleep again."

PREACHES IN A BARN

Clayton Man Who Was Converted Last Summer.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Clayton, Mo., Jan. 8.—A barn is frequently put to many uses, but it remained for Lawyer Cunningham to start the fashion of holding religious services in the stable.

The fashion has not yet progressed beyond the starting stage, but that fact does not worry the lawyer in the least, as he preaches in his improvised chapel in the loft of the stable two nights every week to all of his friends and acquaintances who care to attend.

He has been following this custom since his conversion last September.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

S.S.S. RIDS THE SYSTEM OF CATARRH

Catarrh comes as a result of impurities and morbid matter in the circulation, and is a disease that only attacks mucous membrane. The entire inner portion of the body is lined with a delicate skin or covering of soft, sensitive flesh. Thousands of tiny blood vessels are interlaced throughout this mucous surface, and it is through these that the inner membrane receives its nourishment and is kept in healthful condition. When, however, the blood becomes infected with catarrhal impurities the tissues become diseased and Catarrh gets a foothold in the system. The early stages of Catarrh are characterized by such symptoms as a tight, stuffy feeling in the head, watery eyes, buzzing noises in the ears, with partial deafness and often difficult breathing and chronic hoarseness. These are merely symptoms, and while sprays, inhalations and other local treatment may temporarily relieve them, Catarrh cannot be cured until the blood is purified of the exciting cause. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impure catarrhal matter. It goes down into the circulation and attacks the disease at its head, and removes every particle of the catarrhal impurity. Then the mucous linings are all supplied with fresh, pure blood, and allowed to heal, instead of being kept in a constant state of irritation by the catarrhal matter. Special book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

CANNON THE ISSUE

AN EFFORT IS TO BE MADE MONDAY TO PUT SPEAKER ON HIS FEET AGAIN.

BREAK IN THE REPUBLICAN RANKS

Ballinger-Pinchot Explosion Has Raised All Kinds of Hades—Was Taft Pleased With "Uncle Joe's" Backset?

Hearst News Service.

Washington, Jan. 8.—An effort to set Speaker Cannon back on his feet will be the first move in the direction of repairing the break in the republican ranks caused by the Ballinger-Pinchot explosion.

At a meeting of the public lands committee of the senate, this afternoon, a substitute for the Jones-Ballinger investigation resolution was adopted, providing for the appointment of the senate members of the investigating committee by the vice president. and for the appointment of the house members by the speaker.

This resolution will be put through the senate Monday, if possible, whereupon the house will be called upon to agree to the senate resolution for the one passed by the house yesterday, and there will be one more chance for Cannon to whip back into line a sufficient number of members to win back for him the power to name the house members.

This is an issue that takes precedence over all others just now, and an extraordinary effort will be made to bring Cannon through a winner.

And right here is thrust forward one element of the situation which illustrates the chaotic conditions that exist as a result of the Ballinger-Pinchot affair. It is an open secret that President Taft is immensely pleased at the reverse that Cannon met, and for the sake of the effect it will have on the country he is willing that the house itself. instead of the speaker. shall elect its representatives on the committee that will investigate Ballinger.

Thus it came about that the president is tacitly, if not openly, relying upon the insurgents, whom he has sought to force into line by wielding the patronage club, to strengthen by continued insurgency the position of the administration before the people, where all support possible for the administration is now imperatively necessary.

If the insurgent ranks hold fast, the verdict of yesterday against Cannon can be sustained. While this issue of Cannon takes precedence for the moment over the Ballinger-Pinchot situation, the latter remains the dominant political nsation of the hour. Pinchot is the center of a constantly rising tempest, with a far-reaching political effect which no one can foresee.

Mr. Pinchot today maintained his policy of silence. No statement as been forthcoming from the admin tration, either; but that a broad split has been opened in the ranks of the republican party no one attempts to deny.

BAKER-SHAFER WEDDING

Solemnized at Groom's Brother's Home Saturday Night.

(From Sunday's Daily)

J. A. Baker. for years an efficient car repairer at the M., K. & T. shops, and Mrs. Louise Shafer, of East Thirteenth street, were united in marriage by the Rev. T. J. Baughman at the home of the bridegroom's brother, G. M. Baker, 418 North Moniteau avenue, at 7:30 o'clock last evening.

Only immediate relatives attended the wedding, which was followed by a luncheon and the couple left at midnight for a brief stay at St. Louis, after which they will return here to

The Rev. Grant A. Robbins, pastor of the First M. E. church, had been originally selected to perform the ceremony, but had to decline the task, owing to the rules of Methodism, which forbids its ministers marrying divorced persons.

This fact was explained to Mr. Baker and his bride, whereupon they called in Rev. Baughman, who had been a long friend of the family.

HE KEPT THE CHANGE

Lad Who Had Cleaned the Snow From a Lady's Sidewalk.

A well known Sedalia lady is up in arms against Chief of Police W. H. Boulit for his official edict to have all walks cleaned, and as a result is determined never again to comply with any such order.

The lady in question became frightened at the order printed in Thursday's Democrat-Sentinel, that all would be arrested who did not clean their sidewalks at once, and early Friday morning she called a young boy who was passing on the sidewalk, asking him if he would clean her walks if financially remunerated.

The youth replied in the affirmative, and fixed his own price at ten cents for doing the work. When he had completed the task, he called upon the lady for his money. The latter had nothing smaller than fifty cents, so gave it to the youth with instructions to go to a store one block away and get the money changed, and return to her the forty cents.

The boy did as requested, so far as getting the change is concerned, possibly, but neither hide nor hair has she seen of him since, hence the disgust of the lady who was victimized.

CHOKED TO DEATH

AN EXTRAORDINARY STORY OF DISCOVERIES IN AN ASYLUM IN FRANCE.

ONE ATTENDANT A GRAVE DIGGER

Got a Franc For Each Grave He Dug, And This Compensation May Have Induced Him to Furnish Bodies For Burial.

International News Service.

Paris, Jan. 8.—From a provincial town comes an extraordinary story of some discoveries made at the local asylum for infirm and aged persons. According to this account, suspicion having been raised by the unwonted mortality among these poor people, several corpses were disinterred and examined, the result of the investigation being the opinion that some of the deaths had been caused by strangulation.

One of the male nurses has been arrested on suspicion, it being explained that as he received a gratuity of one franc for every grave he dug, he may have been tempted to give himself as much work of this sort as he possibly could. But on the other hand, no positive proof of his guilt is so far forthcoming, so that his arrest is based on mere suspicion, which may turn out to have been quite unfounded.

Three persons are said to be found to have been strangulated, but it is added that the decomposition of two other corpses rendered practical examination impossible. Yet in one instance, within six days, four deaths occurred, and this is considered to be quite remarkable.

According to report, it was one death of an inmate in December which brought matters to a head. The nurse who is in custody reported the death to the surgeon who was on duty at the time, and who authorized him to proceed with the burial.

The other nurses in the meantime had gone to the pavilion, of which he had charge, to see the corpse, this being the fifth death which had occurred in nine days, and which was, it is alleged, quite as unexpected as the others. They looked carefully and discovered a bluish line around the neck, as well as fingermarks, and when their comrade returned to the pavilion he found the director of the asylum and the chief physician leaning over the corpse.

The doctor having said that he would not give a certificate for the burial, the director lost no time in informing the judicial authorities, and that same afternoon the public prosecutor, the examining magistrate, and other officials arrived, in company with the medical expert, who stated that a violent pressure with the hand had been followed by the drawing of the collar of the nightshirt tightly around the neck, the strangulation having been affected in ten minutes.

When he was questioned, the nurse suggested that the deed might have been done by a lunatic from another pavilion, but he is alleged to have afterwards stated that he was at the bedside when the poor man, who was over sixty years of age, expired.

He was at once arrested, and then the magistrate asked for a list of the deaths in the same pavilion, which was followed by the disinterment of several corpses with the result mentioned above.

Held Delightful Reception.

More than thirty members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Broadway Presbyterian church enjoyed a delightful reception at the home of Mrs. Florence Anderson, 1002 South Vermont avenue, Friday afternoon, the hostesses being Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. C. I. Wilson and Mrs. J. T. Baxter.

Following the business meeting the afternoon was devoted to a social session, during the course of which dainty refreshments of home-made cake and coffee were served.

TO RECLAIM STATE

DEMOCRATS IN KANSAS CITY MAKE SUCCESSFUL APPEAL FOR PEACE.

TO REDEEM MISSOURI IN 1912

Hon. Champ Clark Makes Stirring Speeches at Conference and Jackson Day Banquet, Urging Unity of Democrats.

Associated Press.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 8.—"Missouri must be redeemed" was the spirit of all the speeches made before six hundred delegates gathered here today at the great "harmony conference" of Missouri democrats.

Every county was represented. "Cannonism" and "Aldrichism" was denounced in unmeasured terms.

Some of the prominent speakers were: Joseph W. Folk, David R. Francis, James A. Reed, A. M. Dockery, Wm. J. Stone and Champ Clark.

Following the harmony conference the six hundred Missouri democrats sat down to an elaborate Jackson day banquet at the Baltimore hotel tonight. Representative Champ Clark was the principal speaker at the dinner, and, following the sentiment of the speakers of the day meeting, he pleaded for the united democracy that should swing Missouri back into the democratic column.

Mr. Clark also urged the importance of gaining control of congress. This, he said, was necessary, not only to help in electing a democratic president in 1912. but to effect an honest revision of the tariff.

Mr. Clark declared that Frank H. Hitchcock, postmaster general, called by him "the political field marshal of the administration," is solemnly pledging every appointee of the administration to be for Taft for a second term at all hazards. The specter that is stalking before the regular republicans in Washington, he says, is Roosevelt for another term.

He says President Taft is being deceived. "There is an old saying," the minority leader declared, "that a 'king can have no friends.' Neither can a president. He is lending a confiding ear to certain influences while the country grows madder and madder over Cannon and Aldrich. He is deceived as to public opinion. And as with a king. so with a president—nobody is going voluntarily to the White House to tell him.

"According to my observation and judgment, the signs of the times indicate that the split in the republican party has become so wide and incurable that Col. Theodore Roosevelt will be dragged into the contest as a candidate for the republican nomination for president. If so, it will be the hottest contest that has ever taken place in a national convention with the exception of the democratic convention of 1860 at Charleston and the republican convention of 1880, when Grant was defeated for a third term.

"There are something like one-half million federal office holders in this country. Every one of them is an active politician. That is the largest bread and butter brigade that the sun ever looked down upon. I understand the fact to be that Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock, who is the political field marshal of the administration, is taking time by the forelock and compeling every man who is appointed to any office to make the most solemn and circumstantial pledge that he will support Taft for renomination.

"Papers in a position to know a good deal about things declared that the charges which Herbert Parsons, of New York, brought against Mr. Speaker Cannon last fall constituted the first gun in the campaign of the Roosevelt boomers. These papers gave as the reason the fact that next to Senator Root Parsons is perhaps the closest political friend of Roosevelt in New York.

"It isn't at all probable, either, that Colonel Roosevelt will send any congratulatory messages to President Taft for kicking Pinchot out. On the contrary the mighty hunter probably will jump sidewise and yell 'Wow!' so loud as to be heard clear across the Atlantic. But after all, the Ballinger-Pinchot fuss is simply a symptom of the disease which is afflicting the republican party.

"Yesterday in the house the democrats and republican insurgents struck Mr. Speaker Cannon a body blow. The vote taking from him the power to appoint the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee is really a vote of lack of confidence and will go very far to intensify the factional fight now on among republicans.

Representative H. T. Rainey, democrat, of Illinois, declared strongly against ship subsidy and insisted that the present shipping regulations handicapped American ship owners.

Former Governor Folk, of Missouri, in an address, declared the great fight in this country is to equalize the distribution of wealth.

In his speech former Governor David R. Francis urged harmony in the democratic ranks, that the state might be reclaimed from the republicans.

Departed for His Home.

George C. Murray, son of George B. Murray, who was formerly a prominent contractor here, but who died some six years ago, who has been visiting his mother and Mrs. I. N. Danforth, his sister, for the past week, returned Friday afternoon to New York, where he holds a position as manager of sales for the American Steel Foundries Co., one of the largest in the United States.

"STORY OF JONAH"

STUDIED BY THE BIBLE CLASS AT THE LIBRARY FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

DRUMMER IS GREATLY SURPRISED

He Asked a Salvation Army Lassie a Question and the Quick Response Almost Knocked Him Off His Feet.

The Bible class which has been meeting for some time at the public library is growing in numbers and interest from week to week, and last Friday afternoon a splendid session was held.

The class is studying the book of Jonah, and all confess that this is one of the most interesting books in the Bible. Jonah was commissioned as a foreign missionary, according to the story, but decided to run away from duty by taking a trip through Europe. His plans were overthrown by a storm which overtook the vessel, and in order to save the vessel Jonah himself was finally thrown into the sea.

The class decided that this was a great fish that swallowed the prophet, and the voyage home again was a peculiar one, Jonah being in a very tight place. Rev Harold Cooper, the teacher, stated that he accepted the story as literal history, though a great many ministers think that it was merely a parable.

A great deal of amusement was caused last Friday by the following story: "A drummer asked a Salvation Army lassie how she knew that Jonah was swallowed by the whale. She promptly replied that when she reached heaven she hoped to ask Jonah if the story was true.

"But, suppose Jonah is not in heaven, but in the other place? asked the drummer.

"Oh, well, you can ask him then?" was the ready response of the girl."

The teacher has announced that the class will meet for one more session at the public library, and then if the members so desire the work can be continued at the rest rooms of the court house, or some other centrally located place.

The library board consented to the request that the art rooms could be used for this purpose for six sessions, and this next week will be the last of the six sessions. The work this coming week will be the closing chapters of Jonah.

KILLS SON AND SELF

Publisher, Deranged From Overwork, Found by Wife.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 8.—P. B. Jones, president and general manager of the Southwestern Publishing company of this city, yesterday killed his 5-year-old son and then committed suicide.

Jones, as the head of a large book subscription company, is supposed to have been temporarily deranged when the tragedy took place at his home, in the fashionable west end section of the city. Overwork is given as the cause for the breakdown. He recently returned from a business trip to Texas and said he had "walking fever and could not get right."

In his worried moments he had and himself, and he was watched by his wife and friends. He did not go to his office last afternoon, and while his wife was absent from his room he fired a fatal shot into the body of his little son, Jerry, to whom he was greatly attached, and then blew out his own brains.

Mr. Jones came to Nashville from Waco, Texas.

ARE 17 VACANCIES

IN SACRED COLLEGE OF CARDINALS OF ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH.

WHO WILL BE NEXT TO GET RED HAT

There Should Be Seventy Members—Of the Present Membership of 53 No Fewer Than 33 Are Italians.

International News Service.

Rome, Jan. 8.—There are at present no fewer than seventeen vacancies in the Sacred College of Cardinals, and high h are entertained by Catholic dignitaries all over the world that at the coming consistory Pope Pius X. may bestow the red hat upon them.

Ordinarily, the Sacred College should consist of seventy cardinals, but this number has scarcely ever been reached, owing to the custom to leave several seats vacant, so that in the event of the sudden death of the pope his successor would have several eligibles at his disposal.

The members of the Sacred College at present number only 53, of whom 33 are Italians and twenty foreigners. Some nations complain that they have been neglected lately, and many countries desire to be more fully represented in the highest body of the Roman Catholic church.

From the United States there has come the loudest and most bitter complaint. It is claimed that there are fourteen million Roman Catholics in the United States, in addition to those in the Philippines, Porto Rico and Guam; and that, therefore, the United States becomes the fourth Roman Catholic power in the world, following immediately after France Italy and Austria. America has only one Cardinal, while Spain, with only eighteen million Catholics, and with considerably less influence in the world, has from five to seven cardinals.

Both in the ecclesiastical and lay circles of the United States the opinion is unanimous that America should have a larger number of cardinals. The difficulty, however, is as to which candidates should be chosen for high position. Among the favorites are Mgr. Farley, the archbishop of New York, and Mgr Quigley, the archbishop of Chicago, who have the largest number of Catholics in their dioceses.

Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, is also supported as being the best exponent of the American spirit, and Mgr. Ryan, archbishop of Philadelphia, as being at the doyem of the American heirarchy.

England is another nation which is strongly advancing her claims to be honored by the pope. Ever since Cardinal Vaughan died, in 1903, she has not had a cardinal of her own. Ireland, even, has only one cardinal—Cardinal Mogue, archbishop of Armagh, but the Emerald Isle can claim to have two other cardinals of Irish origin—Cardinal Gibbons, archbishop of Baltimore, and Cardinal Moran, archbishop of Sydney.

England, however, will not now be satisfied with one cardinal as in the past. Ever since the death of Cardinal Vaughan it has been expected that Mgr. Bomme, archbishop of Westminster, would be raised to the Sacred College, and now it is urged that Abbot Gasquot, the learned Benedictine, to whom the pope has entrusted the great work of the revision of the Wulgato. is equally entitled to the honor. The suggestion now is that as the vacancies are so numerous, both these prelates should be raised to the purple.

Canada is another malcontent, and complains that she has been even longer without a cardinal—ever since the death in 1898 of Taschereau, her first cardinal. If Canada is favored, it is expected that the pope's choice will fall on either Mgr. Brushesi, the young and enterprising archbishop of Montreal, or Mgr. Bogin, archbishop of Quebec, the doyem of the Canadian episcopate.

It is expected that the pope will have some difficulty in making the selection. Though the actual creation of cardinals rests entirely with the pope, his holiness, when the cardinals are gathered in consistory, asks their consent as a mere formality.

The members of the Sacred College do not answer verbally, but as each name is announced, they signify their assent by raising their red zucchotti.

SALE OF CHILDREN

"SENSATIONAL ALLEGATIONS" AGAINST GLASS WORKERS IN FRANCE.

ALLEGED TRAFFIC IN THE YOUNG

Agents of the Odious Sweating System Tour the Italian Country and Bargain With Parents Who Are Poor.

International News Service.

Berlin, Jan. 8.—As the result of the sensational allegations that have been recently made against French glassworkers, the Italian government is enforcing stringent measures for the suppression of the alleged traffic in children under age by the glass working industry in France.

The minister of the interior, in a letter addressed to all the prefects, states that an exhaustive official inquiry has shown the existence of an appalling condition of affairs.

Agents of this odious sweating system are in the habit of touring Italian country districts for the purpose of bargaining with poor parents and guardians for the possession of their children for a term of years.

If successful, the children are packed off to the glass foundries, especially in Southern France, where they are utterly at the mercy of their captors.

They are subjected to a life of heart-rending slavery and ill-treatment.

Democratic Address to Missourians

The text of the address to the voters of Missouri, adopted by the committee on address at the democratic conventioni n Kansas City Saturday, is as follows:

Concerning the questions likely to be uppermost in the coming campaign the members of this conference, appointed by the democrats of Missouri make this address to the people of the state:

The Tariff.

We regard the early and just reformation of our tariff laws as the most urgent and most important economic question to be dealt with in the immediate future. The Dingley law, passed in 1897, and which remained in force until 1909, prescribes the highest rates of duty on imports ever imposed up to that date by any statute of this or any other industrial nation.

The tax rates imposed by that law were so exorbitant as to practically exclude the importation of many important lines of manufactures, and in all cases to so burden importations as to make them difficult and often hazardous. Taking quick advantage of the favoring opportunities thus afforded, the great monopolies were organized in most of the more important lines of American manufactures.

The first business of these monopolies was to crush competition, or to so hamper and circumscribe it as to make it ineffective; and this being accomplished, the next move, under one excuse or another, was gradually to advance the price of commodities to consumers. After years of experience under the operations of this law, a deep-laid and widespread conviction was forced upon the public judgment—among republicans as well as democrats—that the law had become a shelter of monopoly and an instrument of extortion. As a result of this conviction an emphatic, almost peremptory, demand came from every quarter of the Union for a speedy revision of the tariff, with a material reduction in the rates. It was known that the democratic party, consistently and always opposed to a high protective tariff, would, if given power, make a substantial reduction in the rates, with a view to reaching a revenue basis as speedily as possible, and so the magnates of special privilege, with a view to weakening the democratic position, induced the republican bosses to play a confidence game on the American voters. The republican party, through its national patform and through the oft-repeated declarations of Judge Taft, its presidential candidate, made during the campaign of 1908, committed itself to a solemn promise that if continued in power the party would thoroughly revise the tariff, with a substantial reduction in the rates The people were deceived and the scheme succeeded. The republican party did "revise the tariff" by the passage of the Payne-Aldrich law, but they did not reduce the rates of duty. On the contrary, on many articles of prime necessity and in universal use, the rates were increased, and on many others the high rates of the old Dingley law were left undisturbed.

The general average of the rates prescribed by the new law are materially higher than those prescribed by the Dingley law. In truth, it is manifest that the framers of the new law had in mind almost exclusively the interests of the great protected producing monopolies, with little thought or care for the great consuming public, whose demands had extorted the promise of lower taxation during the progress of the campaign. It is a plain case of party betrayal, through the instrumentality of powerful party bosses, and the vacillation and weakness of party candidates.

For example, the monopolistic and almost prohibitive rates on woolen fabrics, prescribed by the Dingley law were left practically unchanged in the new law, while the rates on cotton manufactures, unaccountable as it may seem, were greatly increased and this, notwithstanding the fact that authentic and uncontradicted data was laid before congress during the tariff debate showing that for years past the leading cotton manufacturers of New England had been reaping a clear profit of from 25 to over 67 per cent per annum on their capital stock, and that even on a greatly inflated capitalization. So it is clear that the Payne-Aldrich law instead of being in compliance with the ante-election promises of the republican party, it has still more strongly entrenched monopoly and increased still higher the prices of necessaries to the people.

In fact, the startling, unwarranted and audacious advance in the cost of living since the enactment of that law six months ago, is the most striking event in current history. What pretense of justification is put forth by the makers of that law for its enactment in defiance of the public will and in violation of their party promises? They chant the old, old song—it is necessary for the protection of American industries, American working men and American farmers. This they do now, as ever, in utter disregard of their platform declarations, oft repeated, that the true measure of protection is the difference in the cost of production in this country and competing countries abroad, and notwithstanding the well known fact that the tariff rates imposed by the Dingley law and the new law alike, are enormously in excess of that difference in cost as to the protection of American industries it stands admitted that this new enactment certainly does protect the already overprotected and opulent manufacturing monopolies.

As to the "protection of American working men" we have this to say: That great army of so-called common laborers who work outside the protected industries, so far from sharing in the supposed benefits of a protective law, are its victims by Reason of the Resultant Higher Cost of Living.

The amount of their wages is in no way dependent upon the tariff, but depends on the labor demands and supply, and on other conditions in nowise related to the tariff, while undoubtedly their living expenses, in common with all, are directly affected by the burdens of tariff taxation. Mechanics, trained as experts in specialties, receive in this, as they do in other countries, higher wages as mill operatives, but, as in the case of common laborers, their wages are in no sense dependent on the tariff, but depend mainly upon the organizations, upon the demand for and supply of such labor. But this class, like all others, must bear the burden of the increased cost of living resulting from monopolistic control of our productive industries through protective laws. It is a question of extreme doubt whether even the operatives in the manufacturing industries are the recipients of any substantial advantage under the economic system now prevailing. The republican contends that the item of labor constitutes the chief difference in the cost of production here and abroad, and only a few years since the republican advocacy of high protection was predicated almost wholly on the proposition that the tariff should be high enough to cover the alleged difference in labor cost as between America and competing foreign countries, thereby, as they contended, equalizing labor conditions and maintaining the American standard at home.

But now it is known of all informed men that the tariff rates of the new law are far in excess of the difference of the wage rate at home and abroad. Who gets the benefit of that. Not the working men, for their wages for the most part remain the same, and where wages have been changed in recent months there have been more reductions than increases. Who gets the benefit? The manufacturers. Who foots the bill, who suffers? The consumer, including the employes of the manufacturers, who, in common with all must bear the heavy additional cost of living. America, the boasted land of plenty, has become by far the most expensive country in the world in which to live. Already we have reached the point when thousands, perhaps millions of men earning wages and salaries find it difficult, after every reasonable economy, to make their incomes meet their reasonable expenditures, and men working in protected industries are not exempt from this depressing condition.

As to the "Protection of the American Farmers."

We affirm that, with rare exceptions, and particularly with reference to the vegetables along the Canadian border, it is impossible that the tariff can directly or materially affect the price of staple farm products raised in all America. As long as there is a shortage in the world's food supply and as long as we produce an excess above our home demands for export, protection to the farmer against foreign competition is a shallow pretense and a myth. While we continue to be exporters of food products the price of our productions will be regulated by the world's supply and demand, which will vary from one period to another without regard to tariff legislation; and if in the future it shoud happen that the domestic demand should outstrip the domestic supply, then humanity and justice alike would protest against augmenting the price of food necessary for the sustenance of the people by artificial means. The American farmer knows he does not need home protection against foreign competition, and he knows also that he bears his full share of the burdens protected monopolies impose upon the consumer.

This conference is firm in the belief that the struggle for a just downward revision of the tariff should be pushed forward without halt or the least abatement in purpose or energy until monopoly shall be unhorsed and full justice done the American people.

We regret that the republican senator from this state turned his back upon the progressive reform element of his party, ignored the party pledge and his duty to his own constituency, and surrendered himself without reason to the mastery of that legislative bossism, which, under the leadership of Aldrich and Cannon, dominated the last session of congress.

Finally, being unalterably opposed to a high, monopoly-breeding tariff and strongly favoring the old democratic policy of "tariff for revenue," we confidently call upon the democrats of Missouri and all who sympathize with their views, to give emphatic expression to their convictions upon this great question at the next November election.

Public Extravagance.

The enormous and rapid growth in recent years in the volume of public expenditures, national and state, presents a question scarcely less important than the tariff. Taxation is substantially the only means of raising the public revenue. The public treasury is supported almost wholly by contributions collected from the people by taxgatherers. Taxation being a burden imposed on the citizen for the maintenance of government, it follows logically that the old democratic doctrine that that burden should be made as light as possible, consistent with good government and economically administered, is sound. Large expenditures make high taxation necessary, and conversely it follows that the acquisition of large revenue by high taxation leads to extravagance and needless expenditures. Honesty and economy in administrations, with the least possible burden of taxation should furnish the true standard of American government.

But that has not been the rule in recent years. In fact, that is not the rule upon which the republican party administers government. That party seems possessed of a mania for spending money, and we are living in an era of astounding public extravagance. For example, the appropriations made for the first two years of Mr. Taft's administration ($2,052,000,000) will exceed the appropriations of the whole four years of Cleveland's last term ($1,860,000,000) by $192,000,000; and this enormous increase occurs in an average period of about four years.

Assuming that the appropriations for the last two years of Taft's administration will equal those of the first two years (and if the republicans control the next congress there will be no probability of a decrease), the total expenditures of his administration will aggregate the collossal sum of $4,104,000,000, as against $1,860,000,000 expended during the whole of Cleveland's last term. These vast expenditures have exhausted the enormous revenues extorted from the people by excessive taxation until the current treasury deficit will approximate $100,000,000.

"The American house of representatives has ceased to be a deliberative body and has degenerated into little more than a legislative machine, under the dictation of the speaker and the committee on rules, of which the speaker is the chairman. We heartily sympathize with the efforts of democratic and progressive republican representatives to restore the house, which is the only governmental forum in which the people have a direct voice, to its old time prestige and power. We commend to the people the declaration made on this subject by the national democratic convention, held in Denver in 1908, which is as follows:

"The house of representatives was designed by the framers of our constitution to be the popular branch of government, responsive to public will. The house of representatives, as controlled in recent years by the republican party, has ceased to be a legislative and deliberative body, responsive to the will of a majority of its members, but has come under the absolute domination of the speaker, who has entire control of its deliberations and power of legislation. We have observed with amazement the popular branch of our federal government helpless to obtain either the consideration or enactment of measures desired by a majority of its members. Legislative government becomes a failure when one member, in the person of the speaker, is more powerful than the entire body. We demand that the house of representatives shall again become a deliberative body, controlled by a majority of the people's representatives, and not by the speaker, and we pledge ourselves to adopt such rules and regulations to govern the house of representatives as will enable a majority of its members to direct its deliberations and control legislation."

We call attention to the extravagance of the present republican state administration, and the frantic efforts of the republican governor to increase the burden of taxation upon the people of Missouri, in striking contrast to the forty years of democratic administration, during which we paid off the heritage of debt left us by republican officials, built up our splendid state institutions and increased constantly the rate of taxation for state purposes.

We fully indorse the economic and business-like administration of the present democratic state officials, and we invite a comparison of their official conduct with the partisan and spectacular performances of the republican chief executive. We call upon all democrats to renew their party allegence, and putting aside and behind them those differencs and dissensions which in the past have weakened our ranks and made possible the defeat of those principles held in common by all democrats, to present to the enemy in coming national and state campaigns an unbroken and unwavering line. And in the conflict to restore and perpetuate the supremacy of the principles herein announced, we would welcome the support of all citizens of the state, (Signed)

RALPH LOZIER, Secretary,
Committee.

should own some valuable books so that he could mark them. He might write that which he thought while he was reading the book. He should not be afraid to disagree with the author, and give his reasons if he had them.

The speaker said that it was a wonderful thing to have opportunity to commune with the great men of the world. He said that he expected to go to Europe this summer, if the Lord willed, but that he was not anticipating an invitation to dine with King Edward. He could go into his little study here at home any evening in the week and have an intellectual feast with the greatest and most kingly souls of all countries and all the ages.

He warned the people not to be too democratic in the matter of reading. That there was one place when they should be aristocrats. That they could afford to shun the coarser souls for the sake of the companionship of the great souls of the earth.

"I cherish the friendship," said the speaker, "of the unknown friends, living and dead, who have given me the very best of their lives. For these they lived and died. Therefore, the Great Book is the very soul, sweat and life blood of the very noblest of the earth. Read! Read good books- Read them thoughtfully."

DEATH OF MRS. HOLCROFT

Former Sedalia Lady Succumbed to Operation in Kansas City.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

C. E. Costin, of 308 North Prospect avenue, received a telegram Saturday night announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. W. H. Holcroft, which occurred there last evening.

Mrs. Holcroft was the wife of the foreman of the Kansas City terminals and formerly lived in Sedalia, Mr. Holcroft having been for years time clerk at the M., K. & T. shops here. Her death resulted from a surgical operation performed Friday for a cancer.

The news of the demise came as a severe shock to Sedalia relatives as it was not known by them that she was ill and that she had undergone an operation until advised by message earlier in the day Saturday, and as the first message stated that she had stood the ordeal remarkably well, leaving the impression that she was doing nicely and would recover, the message apprising them of her death last night was like a thunderbolt from a clear sky.

The body will be brought to Sedalia for interment, which will be in Crown Hill cemetery. The friends of the Holcrofts in Sedalia will read with sorrow of Mrs. Holcroft's demise, and the sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved husband.

GOOD MAN CALLED

BRIEF SKETCH OF JOHN WHAKER, WHO DIED IN HICKORY COUNTY.

DISTRICT CENSOR SUPERVISOR

Veteran Teacher and Republican Political Worker Was Preparing for Taking of Cencus When He Was Claimed.

The death on Thursday morning at Weaubleau, Hickory county, of Hon. John Whitaker, which was chronicled in the Democrat-Sentinel Friday, was written of as follows in the Springfield Leader of Friday afternoon:

Prof. John Whitaker, one of the best known educators of Hickory county, and census supervisor for the Seventh congressional district, died at his home in Weaubleau, Hickory county, yesterday, after a brief illness of penumonia. He was 67 years old. Prof. Whitaker had been in failing health for the past two years. A year ago he was stricken with penumonia, but recovered, though he has been rather feeble since that time.

Prof. Whitaker was identified with the Weaubleau academy, a school supported by the Christian church, for nearly thirty years. During his early life he had been a teacher, and till his death he manifested great interest in the promotion of the educational advantages of his county. He was a member of the Christian church and also was a Mason. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Prof. Whitaker was born in Ohio in 1842. He served in an Indiana regiment of volunteers during the Civil war. Hs was married to Miss Emeline Earnest in St. Clair county in 1866 Mrs. Whitaker died several years ago. The surviving children are :

Prof. O. B. Whitaker, president of Union Christian college, Indiana; S W. Whitaker, cashier of the Bank of Brownington, Brownington, Mo.; J N. Whitaker, a lumber dealer of Walnut Grove, Mo.; Miss Effie Whitaker, teacher in the public schools of Weaubleau, and Homer C. Whitaker, assistant cashier of the Bank of Brownington.

Prof. Whitaker served his district in the forty-fourth general assembly. In 1908 he was the republican nominee for congress from the Seventh district. He was defeated by Courtney W. Hamlin, of Springfield, by about 700 majority.

Mr. Whitaker seriously considered contesting the election, on the ground that a number of petitions filed for Mr. Hamlin over the district were not prepared according to law. Mr. Whitaker, on the advice of friends, sent the necessary papers to Washington, but owing to some delay at the postoffice they were held until too late for any action to unseat Mr. Hamlin.

Upon the recommendation of Senator Warner, Mr. Whitaker was appointed census supervisor for this district and had entered actively upon the work of organizing the counties into enumerators' districts when death called him from his labors.

His last visit to Springfield was about a month ago, when he districted Springfield and gave out a statement that he had made special arrangements for the most accurate census ever undertaken in Springfield.

His loss of the congressional honors of this district was probably the most crushing defeat of his life. He had hoped to serve at least one term in the halls of congress and to this end he worked energetically during the campaign.

Funeral services were held today from the Christian church at Weaubleau. Interment was in that city.

Dr. Fred Mitchell, of Humansville, is mentioned in connection with the place of census supervisor left vacant by the death of Mr. Whitaker.

A FIRE IN THE COUNTRY

Dwelling on the Farm of Charles W. Daugherty.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

A two-story dwelling on Glen Echo farm, owned by C. W. Daugherty, circuit clerk, and located five miles southwest of Sedalia, caught fire from a defective flue at 4:15 o'clock Friday afternoon (and not earlier, as was incorrectly written and published in Saturday's Capital), and was totally destroyed.

The house was occupied by John Davidson, who manages Mr. Daugherty's farm, and his family. A portion of the household goods was saved.

Mr. Daugherty's loss on the house was $1,500, with $800 insurance, while the loss to Mr. Davidson, who owned the contents, is estimated at $300, with no insurance.

Sold a Farm for $12,000.

T. T. Viets, former treasurer of Pettis county, but now located at Hazen, Ark., has disposed of a 160-acre farm, located one mile west of Hughesville, to Harry S. Knight, a wealthy farmer of that locality, who has already assumed charge.

The consideration was $12,000

The New Pastor Is Here.

FOUND HIS FATHER

IN SEEKING BOY SERVANT, WOMAN FOUND THE SON OF HER HUSBAND.

HAD NOT KNOWN OF HIS EXISTENCE

An Illigitimate Child Whose Mother the Father of the Boy Had Hoped to Marry, But Parents Interposed Objections.

BL GEORGE DUFRESNE.

International News Service.

Paris, Jan. 8.—When the mistress of a wealthy house in the quarter of the Champs Elysees hired a servant boy the other day, she was far from thinking that she was taking a lost son of her husband into her service. The lad who had been recommended by an employment agency, looked healthy and chubby with his red cheeks, and was fresh from the country.

"You will suit," said the mistress of the house, and ordered a nice livery for him at once, with metal buttons and braid. The boy had been warmly recommended by his foster parents in the country, who had brought him up, and who were very anxious that he should be well treated. He was such a good boy, they wrote in a letter, and they would always consider him as their own child.

The mistress of the house told her husband about the boy in the evening, and how pleased she was with him; but when she mentioned his name her husband became absorbed in deep thought. When still very young he had had a love affair with a pretty midinette, whom he had even hoped to marry, but his parents objected. A boy was born, and for seven years he paid for his maintenance in the country. The mother then died, and he lost trace of the boy, and when time went by and he got married, he forgot him altogether.

The new servant boy's name, however, brought back old memories to him. He quietly stole to the kitchen and questioned the boy:

"What was your father's name?"

"I never knew him," answered the boy. "The name I bear is my mother's."

"Who brought you up?"

"Good people in the country," he said, "who are my foster-parents."

There was no doubt left. The boy had been reared by the very people to whom the father had regularly paid the monthly sum for seven years and his mother's name revealed the rest.

"If I told you that you were my son, you would not believe me," he said to the astonished lad, as he took him into his arms and kissed him.

There was short conversation between husband and wife, and a few minutes later the boy was summoned to the parlor, where the mistress of the house also received him with open arms, and told him that hereafter he would also be her son.

The order for a servant's livery was at once cancelled, and instead a college boy's uniform was given, which the boy is now wearing, and instead of running on messages, he is one of the pupils at a lycee. His newly adopted mother is almost happier than the father, as she had no children of her own.

ENJOYED A RECEPTION

At the Home of Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Carlos Friday Night.

Dr. C. R. Carlos, pastor of Epworth M. E. church, and teacher of the Young Men's Bible class of that Sunday school, very delightfully entertained the young men members and their lady friends Friday night at his home. The guests were entertained with a piano duet by Misses Clara and Irene Slagle, and a cornet solo by Mr. Arthur McEwen. Dr. and Mrs. Carlos very prettily rendered a couple of musical dialogues which they used to sing in their younger days, one being entitled "The Gypsy Maid."

Later in the evening Mrs. Carlos, assisted by Mrs. F. O. Withers and Mrs. Will Beasmore, served a very nice oyster soup luncheon, after which everyone departed, voting appreciation for a splendid time to Dr. and Mrs. Carlos.

The members of the class present were: Claude Horning, John Bras, Wilmer O. Smith, Sherman Whiprecht, Arthur McEwen, Lynn H. Rupert, Orville Garber, Chas. Bras, John Lewis, Clyde Neighbors, Fred Anderson, Will Barnett, Albert Wright, Elmer Robb, Otis F. Smith and Frank Abney.

The ladies present were: Misses Ida Lee Skinner, Clara Slagle, Irene Slagle, Minnie Hollingsworth, Fannie Murray, Lynn Henderson, Lauretta Slagle, Opal Rose, Elsie Neighbors, Pearl Dukes, Lucy Wright, Marie Heitman, Jessie Hill, Mable Stryker and Mrs. Will Barnett.

SECOND WAR WITH RUSSIA

Japanese Newspapers Say St. Petersburg Is Preparing to Fight.

Victoria, Jan. 8.—Some Japanese newspapers fear a second war with Russia, according to advices received on the Shino Maru today. The Nichi Nichi of Tokio says in discussing Russo-Japanese relations:

"We are afraid the world will see the two nations involved in war at no distant date. While Japan has no aggressive designs on the Asiatic continent, Russia is eagerly bent on making preparations in Eastern Siberia. It is apparent that Russia is providing against an attack from the combined forces of Japan and China."

Other Tokio newspapers print the official communique from St. Petersbury denying warlike intentions by Russia, with satisfied comments. The Hochi says there is nothing likely to bring about any rupture.

Attended a Banquet.

W. H. Powell, Dr. W. J. Ferguson and Dr. E. F. Yancey were passengers to Kansas City Saturday afternoon and attended the democratic banquet at the Baltimore hotel Saturday night.

Y. M. C. A. HELPED

A NUMBER OF CASES OF DESTITUTION ASSISTED DURING THE PAST WEEK.

ALL MEN WHO WERE DOWN AND OUT

If the Public in General Only Knew of the Good Work Being Done the Association Would Soon Have Building.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Many unfortunate men have called upon the association for relief during the last cold spell, and all have been cared for with good lodging or clothing. Most of these cases are young men who have thought home a cage and drifted out into the world of strangers, seeking a fortune, only to find there is no place like home, with father and mother to help with counsel, as well as life's necessities.

Many of these boys and young men have parents, anxious to send money for the immediate relief, as well as transportation back home.

Last week two boys were picked up here for trespass, and the judge, a kind hearted man, saw that they were not professional tramps, but young men needing a helping hand, so he gave it to them The association provided meals and lodging till work was found that will enable them to help themselves.

One man with three frozen toes came in and felt too unworthy to even enter the office, but he was provided with relief. He was given a physician's care, and now he is at work supporting himself. These are only a few of the many cases coming for and receiving aid. The board of officers does not want a man, even a stranger within our city, to say that no place of shelter could be secured in Sedalia for a man without a penny.

The association is in the city to help men—men in every state and condition in life. The association is young, yet it has done much in the short time it has been organized, not only in helping men who are down, but has provided means to keep them from going down.

When the good people of the city know the kind of services rendered by the Y. M. C. A. more financial help will be given and then more work can be accomplished.

Last year $7,500,000 was used by the Y. M. C. A.'s of North America in its work of character building; forty-three new buildings were erected at a cost of $6,800,000, with $10,600,000 more pledged for new buildings or additions.

The attendance at religious services was $4,055,000, and 101,700 were in the Bible class. Almost 50,000 were enrolled in the evening schools.

With the number of young men in Sedalia it surely should have a building of its own. Two hundred and forty-six cities and towns the size of and smaller than Sedalia have buildings of their own, and are doing a splendid work. All it needs in Sedalia is to have some man or woman who believes in helping men and boys to a higher, nobler and more useful life in every way to come forward and head the movement with a building fund.

DISMISSAL OF PINCHOT, OF THE FORESTRY BUREAU, THE CAUSE OF IT.

WATTERSON ATTACKS PRES. TAFT

Kentucky Editor Says Taft Proclaims Himself a Friend of Thieves and Enemy of Honest Men—Friends Fear Mistake.

Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Gifford Pinchot, chief forester of the United States yesterday, is a private citizen today, apparently unconcerned and smiling, in great contrast to the political ferment in which Washington finds itself.

Pinchot has said nothing, but political Washington trembles to think of what may be the result of his dismissal.

Pinchot today, in the opinion of many, becomes the pivot on which the insurgent fight with the administration can turn its guns.

The effect of the dismissal of this close friend of Roosevelt from the official family of Taft is another phase of the conjectures which fill the air, and many political forecasters see unmistakable signs of a tempest within the republican party, with ramifications which some of the most sanguine fear to think about.

Watterson Attacks the President.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 8.— Henry Watterson will editorially say tomorrow in the Courier-Journal, under the title, "Honest Men to the Front:"

"For the first time in the history of this country the president of these United States has openly proclaimed himself a friend of thieves and the enemy of honest men."

That, and that alone, is the issue precipitated by the nation's chief executive by the order Friday removing Gifford Pinchot from office as chief forester of the United States.

Many republican presidents have by indirection, through protective policy, proclaimed themselves friends of robbery under the forms of law, but Mr. Taft becomes the first to depart from the process of licensed robbery and to announce that the debts of his party are in the future to be paid out of the public domain. It is not worth while for anybody to beat about the bush or to deal in anything but plain English. Truth will not down. That President Taft is personally an honest, well intentioned man need not be denied or doubted. The world is full of men who can see no wrong where their interest is at stake, and who are blind to right when their passions are awakened, and who will do for their party what they would refuse to God. The candidate of straw upon a platform of imposture was inducted into office, sees his house of cards about to tumble in on him, and his cabinet, because of an act of an upright but imprudent servant, and, in panic, anger and fear, thinks to avert a threatened catastrophe by driving out an upright servant."

Another Fight Precipitated.

Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 8.—Another fight between the insurgents and the organization in the house has ben precipitated by the action of the senate committee on public lands today in reporting a resolution authorizing the appointment by the vice president and the speaker of a joint committee to investigate the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

Glavis Refuses to Talk.

FOUND HIM GUILTY

REV. W. M. STUCKEY CONVICTED OF ABDUCTING A 16-YEAR OLD KANSAS GIRL.

CASE PROBABLY TO BE APPEALED

The Jury Said He Was Guilty of Taking the Child for Immoral Purposes and for White Slave Purposes.

Associated Press.

Ottawa, Kas., Jan. 8.—Rev. W. M. Stuckey, a former minister of Williamsburg, who has been on trial, charged with abducting Lorena Sutherland, a 16-year-old girl of the congregation, was found guilty by a jury today. The case will probably be appealed.

Stuckey was found guilty on both charges, those of abducting the girl for immoral purposes and for abducting her for "white slave" purposes.

The penalty is from one to five years on each count.

The jury considered the case but thirty minutes. When the verdict was read Stuckey appeared very nervous.

His wife, who stood by him throughout the ordeal, sobbed audibly when the verdict was announced, and later when Stuckey was taken back to jail. Two children also were in tears. Sentence was deferred, pending consideration of action of the matter of appeal.

BYRD K. HIGGINS WEDS

Bride Was Miss Bertha L. De Kalb, of Alexandria, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Higgins, of 520 East Thirteenth street, received a letter Saturday announcing the marriage of their son. Byrd K. Higgins, a former Sedalian, to Miss Bertha Lenora De Kalb. of Alexandria, Neb.

The marriage occurred at Denver, Colo., on Thursday, January 6, and after the 15th inst. they will be at home to friends at 2151 Tremont Place, Denver.

Mr. Higgins is one of the most popular young men who ever resided here. While in this city he was engaged as a motorman for the Sedalia Light and Traction company, but for some time has been employed by the Pacific Express company at Denver, where he is held in the highest esteem by every acquaintance.

Mrs. Higgins for some time has been employed at Denver, and visited in Sedalia last summer as the guest of Miss Nina Higgins and her sister, Mrs. Louis K. Buckley. While here she made many friends, who will join the Democrat-Sentinel in wishing the couple a long life of wedded bliss.

MANSLAUGHTER CASE OF DR. W. T. SIMONDS RESULTED IN HUNG JURY.

DELIBERATED NEARLY FIVE HOURS

Reported to Court When All Efforts to Reach a Verdict Failed, With Seven for Conviction and Five for Acquittal.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

After deliberating for four hours and fifty-five minutes the jury in the Dr. W. T. Simonds manslaughter case in criminal court reported to Judge N. M. Bradley at 9:05 o'clock last night that it was an utter impossibility to reach a verdict, and was discharged.

The case went to the jury at 4:19 o'clock yesterday afterncon. The general opinion, with but a few exceptions, was that a verdict of guilty would be reached, but at the hour stated, when the jurors rapped for admission to the court room and through their foreman reported that it was impossible to reach a verdict Judge Bradley thanked them and ordered them discharged.

It is not known how many ballots were taken, but seven jurors stood for conviction and five for acquittal. The vote remained unchanged throughout the session.

Dr. Simonds was placed on trial Friday morning. The offense with which he was charged was that he had performed a criminal operation on Anna Bell, a 19-year-old domestic. Everett Casto, who was recently tried for being an accomplice in the affair, was sentenced to four years in the state penitentiary.

The introduction of evidence was concluded shortly after the dinner hour Saturday, and at 2 o'clock W. D. Steele, assistant prosecutor, began his argument. He was followed by R. A. Higdon, leading counsel for the defense, who in turn was followed by Judge George F. Longan for the defense, and Prosecutor Dow. Each side was given one hour to argue.

The following composed the jury: J. C. Beaman, W. T. Hull, Edward G. Church, L. H. Haggard, Samuel Kendrick, Phillip Elliott, B. M. Lodge, J. T. Albertson, J. W. Neal, A. Allie, T. J. McCormick and James Glazebrook.

The verdict is considered a great victory for the defense. The case had attracted wide interest in all parts of the county, and every session of the court was attended by a large throng.

Among Saturday's witnesses was Dr. M. T. Collins, who was summoned to give expert testimony.

On Saturday, May 23, 1908, Dr. R. T. Miller, then coroner of Pettis county, received a telephone message from G. H. Corbett, a gardener, of six miles south of Sedalia, to come to that place at once, as a young girl was quite ill.

Dr. Miller responded to the call at once, but on arrival there found the girl dead. The house was a very plain one and in a rather unhealthy condition. The body indicated that death had occurred several hours previously. An investigation revealed that the girl was Anna Bell, aged 19, of southeast of Cole Camp, and that she had died under mysterious circumstances. The body was brought to Sedalia.

On the following Sunday morning a post-mortem was held and revealed the fact that a criminal operation had been performed. Corbett, at whose home the girl died, was put on the stand at the inquest and testified that the girl died while he was absent, the only attendant being John Brown, a negro boy.

Shortly afterwards Prosecutor Dow issued warrants for the arrest of Dr. Simonds, charging him with manslaughter; also for Everett Casto and G. H. Corbett, whom he charged with being accomplices. Casto was the first tried after a severance had been granted the defendants, and got four years in the penitentiary. Corbett's case is yet to be tried.

Called by Sister's Illness.

(From Sunday's Daily)

Mrs. Eugene Hugenschmidt left at 5:15 o'clock Friday afternoon for Oklahoma City, Ok., in response to a message received shortly before, announcing that her sister, Mrs. S. M. Mead, formerly Miss Marie Sands, of this city, was critically ill. The message gave no further details. A second message was received Saturday afternoon, saying that Mrs. Read's condition was somewhat improved.

SO HARLEY BERRY, AGED 21, AND MINNIE BULLARD, 17, WENT TO CLINTON.

TAKEN IN CUSTODY SATURDAY

Charge Was That Berry Had Enticed the Girl From Home, but He Was Subsequently Released—Father After Girl.

(From Sunday's Daily)

Harley Berry, aged 21, son of John L. Berry, 513 West Main street, and Minnie Bullard, who will be 17 years old in April, a daughter of John Bullard, of Ohio avenue and Jefferson street, were arrested at Clinton shortly before noon Saturday by Chief of Police Harry Staples at the instigation of the girl's father, who says his daughter will not be 17 years of age until April next.

Berry and the girl applied to County Recorder Morey Friday for a marriage license. Previously they had asked Justice Leaming if he would marry them. To this the latter assented, not being familiar with the circumstances at that time.

Berry and the girl then proceeded to the court house, but a telephone message had preceded them, with instructions not to issue a license, as the girl was under age.

On being refused the permit to wed, Berry and the girl boarded M., K. & T. train No. 3 Saturday for Clinton, and were on their way to the court house when arrested. They were lodged in jail, pending the arrival of a Sedalia officer for them.

Berry is employed at a local poultry house and had been paying attention to the girl only a short time.

Late Saturday the father of the girl went to Clinton to bring his daughter home, and as Prosecutor Dow has refused to file information against Berry he will be released.
